Fair, Cold Easter Forecast

Mercury to Dip Tonight

A fair and cold Easter was forecast today.

The mercury is expected to drop well below freezing tonight but warmer weather is in sight for tomorrow afternoon with the mercury climbing to about 60.

Winter moved right back into Mansfield last night and today with the airport reporting a low reading of 27 early this morning. A low of 24 was seen for tonight.

Nearly an inch of snow and sleet fell on the Mansfield area during the night and early this morning, but much of it had melted by noon.

More snow fell early today in Ohio, Indiana, lower Michigan and as far south as Kentucky as a cold wave moved eastward toward the Appalachians after battering the midwest with snow, sleet, rain and cold winds.

Freezing temperatures were recorded in a wide belt north of central Missouri and central Illinois, with the nation's lowest reading of 19 degrees reported at Rochester, Minn.

ENDANGERS BUDS

George W. Mindling, weather forecaster in Columbus, said tonight's frost would threaten flowering fruit trees.

"The frost will be on the heavy side," he warned. "With things as far advanced as they are, and the low temperature of 28 predicted, it could be pretty bad for the farmers."

Mindling said, however, that the winds will be quieted down by tonight, making it possible for fruit growers to use smudge pots to fight the frost.

The state highway patrol gave the green light to Mansfielders who plan automobile trips over the holiday. The highways are clear and the patrol said the traffic on U. S Route 42 this morning was not unusually heavy.

The patrol expects heavier traffic later today and warned motorists to drive carefully.

Tidal Wave Hits Coast

TACOMA, WASH. — (AP) — A violent tidal action, apparently caused by a huge cliff sliding into Puget Sound, threw the community of Salmon Beach near here into panic early today.

First reports from the area were not clear as to exactly what had happened.

The coast guard sent a boat to investigate.

Mrs. Carl Pfitzenmeyer, owner of a store at Salmon Beach, told the Associated Press she was awakened at 3:10 a. m. (PST) by a loud roaring noise, followed immediately by the heavy waves sweeping onto the beach.

Other reports, yet unconfirmed, said that from one-fourth to one-third of a mile of cliff overhanging the sound near Salmon Beach had slid into the water.

A small private dock was demolished.

Salmon Beach is about two miles north of Point Defiance, at the northern extremity of Tacoma, and about a mile south of the Tacoma narrows bridge. The 300 residents of the community left their homes and headed for the beach, fearing that an earthquake was upon them, but no temblors were reported.

Hold Suspect In Kidnaping

SPRINGFIELD — (UP) — A fugitive from a West Virginia prison road gang is being held for investigation in the mysterious disappearance of a three-year-old girl from her home near here, Sheriff J. Arthur Shuman announced today.

The Clark county sheriff identified the man as Clovis Lee Williams, 22, of Artie, W. Va., who escaped from a road gang six months ago while serving a one to 10 year sentence for grand larceny.

Sheriff Shuman said Williams was picked up near the spot where Sandy Robinson disappeared last Thursday. The pretty, blue-eyed girl was last seen playing in the front lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foster, who raised her.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

CINCINNATI— (INS)— Mrs. Virgil Calendar, 32, of nearby Jonesville, Ky., was fatally burned today.

Cold Cancels Outdoor Rite In City As Nation Plans Easter Observance

Annual Egg Hunt to Be Held Monday

Paraders to Show Spring Finery

With temperatures expected to drop below the freezing mark early tomorrow, Mansfield's union Easter sunrise service will be moved indoors.

The service, originally scheduled for South park, at 6:30 a. m., will be held at the same hour at the First Presbyterian church. Members of the Richland County Youth Council and members of the senior class at Senior high school will portray the story of the empty tomb and the Resurrection of Jesus at the service.

Hundreds of Mansfielders are expected to attend this union service which will climax Holy Week services held daily this week.

Plans for the children's Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Volunteers of America, also have been changed due to the weather. The eighth annual hunt was to have been held at 3 p. m. today in South park.

However, Lt. Maj. R. L. Gutterman, of the Volunteers, announced today the hunt has been postponed until Monday at 3 p. m.

More than 700 colored eggs will be hidden in the park, and hundreds of children are expected to turn out for the hunt. Among them will be children from the Richland county children's home.

New Easter outfits will come out of closets and boxes for the day which traditionally marks the first appearance of spring clothing.

Mansfielders are expected to take their place in the "Easter parade" dressed in the latest fashions, since city stores earlier this week reported an 11th-hour rush on Easter buying.

Since Easter is primarily a day of worship, thousands of Mansfielders will attend services in city churches.

In addition to the union sunrise service, many city churches will have individual sunrise services early tomorrow.

Members of Mansfield Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar, will attend the Easter sunrise service at the First Methodist church tomorrow. Members will meet at the Masonic temple for a ham and egg breakfast prior to marching to the church in uniform.

QUEEN AND HER COURT—Betty Erickson, seated, will reign as queen for the 18th annual Mansfield Relays Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 23. With her as attendants are the four seniors who received the next highest number of votes among Senior high students. Left to right, standing, they are Patricia Jackson, Patricia Early, Leora Markley and Tina Taylor.

Confesses In Slaying

DOVER, Del. — (AP) — A young 16-year-old farmer confessed early today that he and his mother murdered a 70-year-old man the woman met through a lonely hearts correspondence, state police Col. Herbert Barnes announced.

At an unprecedented 1 a. m. (EST) press conference, the Delaware state police superintendent said the youngster had made a full confession that he shot Wade Woodridge, Bedford, Va., and that his mother participated and helped him dispose of the body. No motive for the killing was revealed.

Col. Barnes said the slaying occurred last October 10 but was not discovered until the latter part of last week. He said the victim's body was buried temporarily in a pig pen and later removed, burned and thrown on the Dover city dump. Police found charred remains on the dump last night.

Those under arrest were identified by Barnes as Robert Vernon Brennan and his mother, Inez Gertrude Brennan, 45. Robert's half-brother Raymond, was held as an accessory.

Huge Plane Lifts Record 'Payload'

FORT WORTH, TE. — — A twin of the famed B-3 bomber took off, flew nearly three hours and landed with a 100,000 pound load last night.

It was the greatest weight ever taken aloft.

And the plane, the C-99, was still relatively light, Ray O. Ryan, Convair division manager, said. Convair made the craft. Gross weight was 277,000 pounds, including the test load. Ryan called the flight "highly successful."

Move to Open Plant

54 Workers Idled At Fredericktown

A management-union conference will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the Fredericktown plant of the Sun Glow Furniture Industries, Inc., in a move to end a shutdown which has idled 54 employes and halted production.

Ralph B. Stowell, of Mansfield, plant manager, will meet with representatives of Local 293, Upholsterers International union (AFL). Fred Tyson is union chairman and reports the shutdown idled 50 workers and four foremen.

Peak employment at the plant was 150 workers but present economic conditions have reduced the staff with several lay-offs since the first of the year reported. Stowell blamed a decline in orders for the shutdown which he termed temporary and expects production to resume in a week or 10 days.

The labor outlook in the Mansfield area took a brighter hue this week with the resumption of work at the Hercules Steel Product corporation in Galion on Thursday. A strike was called there Feb. 21 affecting 150 workers, but settlement was reached over piece-rate adjustments with the International Association of Machinists on April 8.

Negotiations are continuing at the Central Ohio Steel Products company at Galion where 150 workers struck March 10.

It Happens Here, Too

Pyramid Clubs Get Weak Start In City

First operation of Pyramid clubs in Mansfield was reported today with a number of residents saying they had been invited to join the sucker scheme.

Reported fee for "joining" was one dollar with possible returns running into hundreds of dollars held up as bait.

Here as elsewhere the clubs appear to be operating on the basis of a series of parties at which the host collects the swag and provides the entertainment, while the guests hope the scheme holds out until it is their turn to play host and collect.

Police Chief Jesse Schwab declined comment on the Pyramid clubs' arrival in the city. He said he had not heard of it yet.

Police in other cities have found no way to stop the sucker scheme—where they were so inclined— but in Kentucky, the losers themselves have taken the matter in hand by organizing "Get Even" societies which also imitate the old chain letter device but do not use the mails.

Initial reports indicate that the Pyramid clubs are finding the going rather slow in Mansfield.

MILK PRICE SLASHED

AKRON — (INS) — The retail price of milk dropped two cents a quart in Akron today.

Bulletin

NEW YORK — (AP) — Seven thousand railway express employes voted today to end their five-week-old work stoppage and return to work Monday.

Eire Ready To Cut Ties

DUBLIN — (INS) — Thousands of visitors poured into Dublin today in preparation for Monday's gala celebration when Eire severs its last tie with the crown of Great Britain.

When Eire's independence is declared Monday at one minute past midnight a twenty-one gun salute will be fired and trumpets will sound.

The cutting of the final link between Eire and Britain is embodied in a 50-word act of the Irish parliament repealing the Eternal Relations act of 1936.

Nab Alleged Slayer

MERRICK, N. Y. — (INS) — One hundred Long Island policemen fought a bitter gun and tear-gas battle today to capture a 22-year-old youth who allegedly slew his fiancee's father.

The youth, Dewitt Combes, 22, surrendered meekly after standing off police with only a pistol and a rifle for an hour and 20 minutes.

Road Equipment, Cars Sold At Auction

7 County Vehicles Bring $7,217

Seven pieces of out-moded Richland county equipment brought $7,217.50 today at a public auction at the county garage on North Main street.

Attended by more than 100 farmers, contractors and interested Mansfielders, the sale was termed by P. S. Carroll, clerk of the county commissioners, as "very good and up to the expectations of the commissioners."

Biggest money-maker for the county was a 13-year-old three-eighths yard power shovel that brought $3,700 under the hammer of Neil Robinson, the auctioneer. D. H. Bowman, a contractor from Perrysville, bought the shovel.

A 1941 Galion grader, costing the same as the shovel when new (approximately $6,000), was bought by Charles Walters for the Perry township commissioners. Walters, a Perry township commissioner, said the road grader would be used for township road repairs.

Other items sold at the sale included a 1941 Reo dump truck and a snow plow which attached to the front of the truck, which were bought by Ralph Volz, 196 Marion avenue, for $865; a 1942 Plymouth two-door car went to Robert Straub, Mansfield R. D. 2, for $600; George Smith, of Lucas, was the high bidder on a 1939 Dodge four-door at $515; and $202.50 brought Don Orewiler, of Crestline, a 1936 Chevrolet one-half-ton pick-up truck.

W. F. See, 337 Bowman street, bought a 1937 Harley-Davidson motorcycle for $225.

Millions To Gather In Prayer

Mountain Top Ceremonies Set

(By Associated Press)

Millions of Americans at dawn tomorrow will hear the story of a risen Christ re-told at outdoor services on mountain tops and in valleys, on the seashore and in woodlands.

In some places throngs running into the tens of thousands will gather, while in others only a handful or worshippers will be present.

Fair, but slightly cool weather was forecast for most sections of the nation.

Perhaps the largest outpouring will be at the 24-year-old ceremony in the Wichita mountains, near Lawton, Okla. Here the 1939 record of 200,000 worshippers is expected to be exceeded.

Other large crowds may include: 75,000 at Washington, D. C.'s Fort Lincoln; 65,000 at Chicago's Soldier Field; 60,000 at Pasadena's Rose Bowl; 50,000 at Miami's Orange Bowl, and 35,000 at the Hollywood Bowl. The movie capital's nondenominational service will be on a national radio program.

For the 15th time, the songs of Christiandom will ring from the shrine of ages on the south rim of the Arizona Grand Canyon. These services will be broadcast nationally (NBS) Canada, and beamed by short wave to Europe, Latin America and the armed forces overseas.

Two Colorado mountain settings will be used to solemnize the story of the crucifixion and the resurrection: the park of the Red Rocks, near Denver, and the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs.

One of southern California's oldest Easter observances will be atop Mount Rubidoux in Riverside county.

Among the east coast ceremonies will be a gathering of 6,000 at the Woodland sanctuary, Florida's highest point next Lake Wales, where the 22nd annual service will be given at the Bok Singing Tower.

From the summit of Hot Springs mountain in Arkansas' Hot Springs national park, a chorus of 200 mixed voices will join in the Easter program.

J. McSweeney Casts Eyes Toward Senate

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Who will be Ohio's Democratic nominee in the 1950 U. S. Senate race?

Rep. John McSweeney of Wooster says he is available for the nomination if Gov. Frank J. Lausche doesn't want it.

Ohio's chief executive says, "No comment."

Rep. McSweeney announced his intentions in Washington yesterday. He said he plans to run "if Governor Lausche does not make the race."

The Wooster Democrat said he had no idea what Lausche's plans are or when he may decide whether to run. He declined further comment.

McSweeney's announcement freshened rumors that Lausche may attempt to take the Senate seat away from Senator Robert A. Taft next year.

C. Kalbfleisch Is Top Tapper

Employes at the city building today held their fourth annual Easter egg breaking contest in Auditor P. J. Kelley's office with 21 entries and a large group of spectators.

Contestants pair off in an elimination contest and start tapping each others eggs. The egg that survives the tapping wins the contest.

Today's winner was "Bullet Gus" a bright green egg of Irish descent, sponsored by Miriam Carbetta and driven by City Solicitor C. J. "Connie" Kalbfleisch.

Romania In Shakeup

BUCHAREST — (UP) — Romania replaced two of its three vice-premiers today and gave one of the jobs to communist boss Ana Pauker.

WALLACE BEERY

Wallace Beery Succumbs

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.— (AP)—Wallace Beery, 60, beloved by movie-goers for his good-humored, hard-boiled roles, died last night of a heart ailment.

Beery, who had been in pictures for 36 years, was conscious up to the time of his unexpected death at his home. He had been under treatment for some time for a heart condition but appeared to be improving.

At his bedside were his divorced wife, Mrs. Rita Beery; a brother, Will Beery; his adopted daughter, Carol Ann, and a nephew, Noah Beery jr.

Death came at 10 p. m.

STRAINED HEART

The husky actor underwent hospital treatment last Nov. 19 after he said he suffered some heart strain last summer during a trip to his lodge at Jackson Hole, Wyo. At that time doctors said he would have to slow down.

Born in Kansas City, he joined a circus at the age of 16. In 1904 he became a singer with a musical show in New York with moderate success.

His long motion picture career started in 1913.

After a brief turn with Keystone comedies, he started playing roles as the hard-boiled, clumsy but kindly character which endeared him to millions of movie-goers.

Beery was one of the actors to survive the advent of sound. Among his sound pictures are "Chinatown Nights," "Tugboat Annie," "The Bad Man" and "Barnacle Bill."

Lift Sets New Record

Plane-a-Minute In Dramatic Push

BERLIN — (UP) — Anglo-American planes smashed all airlift records today by flying 12,834 tons of food and coal into the city in a dramatic 24-hour display to Russia that its blockade has failed.

In the final hour of the "big push," some planes were landing only one minute apart. Air authorities estimated the total number of flights in the 24 hours at 1,364 compared with the previous high of 922.

Even Maj. Gen. William H. Tunner, American commander of the airlift, felt the fever pitch of the successful record attempt. When he asked an airlift pilot at Templehof airfield for a ride back to western Germany, the pilot just glanced at the regulation jacket which hid Tunner's rank and shouted:

"You'll have to shake your tail and get aboard. We're in a hurry."

Tunner grinned, and climbed aboard.

Airlift officials announced shortly after noon that the unofficial total tonnage for the 24-hour operation was 12,833.9 tons.

Four Dead In Auto Smashup

TOLEDO — (INS) The toll in a two-car auto collision just outside Toledo stood today at four killed and three injured.

A snow-swept, slippery street was blamed for the accident, which occurred last night, in which William J. Nichols, 65, his wife, Martha, about 60, and a nephew, Eston J. Nichols, 48, all of Barre, Vt., and Mrs. Georgia Stevenson, 33, of Detroit, were killed.

Seriously injured and confined to Mercy hospital in Toledo were Mrs. Stevenson's husband, Jeff, 35, and their two children, Sandra, 6, and Janet, 3.

'Curtain' Countries Sign Pact

Eyes of World Turn to Balkans

(Compiled From Wire Services)

The eyes of the world turned to the "iron curtain" countries of Europe today as the important developments were unfolded.

1. Czechoslovakia released an American woman charged with "political activity."
2. Czechoslovakia and Hungary signed a 20-year mutual aid pact.
3. The Bulgarian government insisted that Premier Georgi Dimitrov left his post for reasons of health, despite rumors that he had been ousted.

The American woman's release followed a stiff protest by the American embassy. She is Miss Vlasta Adele Vraz of Berwyn, Ill., head of American relief in Czechoslovakia.

Government authorities notified U. S. Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs that Miss Vraz was freed in the interests of better relations between the two countries.

Jacobs said, however, that Czech police still contended she was guilty of espionage.

Meanwhile Czechoslovakia and Hungary signed a 20-year mutual aid pact, forging a last link in the tight chain of alliances binding Russia and her satellites.

24TH TREATY

The satellite treaty, following hard on the conclusion of the North Atlantic pact which unites western democracies, is the 24th in the network of Soviet-linked treaties.

At Sofia, Bulgarian official circles insisted today that Premier Georgi Dimitrov absented himself from his post temporarily for reasons of health despite contrary rumors in other European capitals.

The Bulgarian government announced Thursday night that Dimitrov has gone to the Soviet Union to recuperate.

Elsewhere in Europe: Iran appeared today to be seeking a final showdown with Russia, her tormentor since czarist days.

Usually reliable sources said the Iranian foreign ministry has informed Soviet Ambassador E. V. Sadchikov that Iran considers the 1921 Iranian-Soviet treaty "null and void."

That treaty permits Soviet troops to occupy Iran if and when Russia feels its security is threatened. Sadchikov was said to have been told that the treaty automatically lapsed when Iran joined the United Nations.

UN membership, Iran maintained, automatically repudiates all treaties signed under duress.

Furthermore, these sources said, Iran informed Sadchikov that it would complain to the UN Security council if Russia does not ease its pressure on this country.

Vet Pension Talk Renews

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A House Veterans committee member said today that the group may approve a pension bill "almost similar" to that rejected by the House last month.

Rep. Huber (D) Ohio, made this forecast in revealing that strong sentiment exists in the committee for including World War II veterans in the proposed legislation.

Action is expected within a fortnight after members return April 25 from their Easter recess.

If World War II veterans are covered in the revised pension bill sponsored by Rep. Rankin (D) Miss., it will not be very different from that thrown out by the House March 24 by a 208 to 207 vote.

When the House finally rejected the first bill after three days of tumultuous debate, it had been amended to provide pensions for needy veterans of both world wars when they reach the age of 65.

Will Ask Pact OK

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President Truman will probably send the new international wheat pact to the Senate for ratification sometime next week.

Claims Machines With Mechanical Brains Endangering Man's World

WHO WILL have the last laugh in the gadget age—man or the machine?

Well, the machine is already giving a preliminary oily chuckle. For it is gaining . . . gaining . . . gaining on mankind. It is convinced it will laugh last.

This poor man's philosopher has repeatedly warned of the danger that lies in insidious machines—gadgets of all kinds that make men more comfortable but wean them from nature.

Recently I wrote that I had never learned to drive a motor car and never intend to. Why lose the ability to walk, as so many people who drive cars do?

Back came a jeering postcard from Alliance, O.:

"I didn't know anyone was so dumb. God must have been asleep when you was made."

I prefer to think that the Deity is weeping at what man is letting the machine age do to him. And what is it doing? It is gradually making him unnecessary in the world—by taking over his functions.

Laugh, clown, laugh. But listen, too:

Man functions by means of muscle, brain and heart. And by heart I mean emotion.

The machine holds an edge in the world of muscle. It has already replaced man there. Men are perhaps growing larger physically, but the tools in their hands are growing lighter and lighter. Eventually men won't have to lift anything.

This is regarded as a boon—the taking over by the machine of man's eternal labor burden.

But now machines have taken the second step to supersede their creators—mankind. They can think. They have mechanical brains that can solve some problems quicker than a thousand brilliant men.

Today the brain of the machine is only in its infancy. How far can it go? No scientist can predict a limit.

But Dr. Norbert Weiener of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a world authority in this field, says thinking machines will make obsolete the unskilled human worker. He foresees completely automatic factories with assembly lines directed from a single control panel.

"The transfer to this thinking machine," said Dr. Wiener, "would not be essentially a bigger job than that done with radar in the last war.

"It's a thing that may be very useful to a sane world, but I can't say we're living in one. It is a very dangerous thing socially. If we are going to sell man down the river and replace him, he's going to be a very angry man, and an angry man is a dangerous man."

And Dr. Wiener gave this warning:

"If it isn't going to be handled with a great deal of skill, it will be a period of great smash.

"The power is too great to entrust to any individual."

And so we stand—at the threshold of a new adventure. The little slave we bought so long ago is now challenging its master.

The machine has more muscle than we have. Soon—very, very soon—it will have greater and more precise brainpower than the ordinary man has to meet and make the judgments necessary in a mechanical age.

What has man left to defeat the machine? Nothing but his heart, the one thing a machine lacks. But man hasn't lived by his heart in the sad history of this warring world. Only by using his heart more can he avoid the doom of becoming a hired hand of his own gadgets.

Otherwise the machine will laugh . . . and laugh . . . and laugh . . . until its gears creak.

Two Chosen To Attend Girls' State

Senior, Madison High Pupils Named

Two pupils in Mansfield and Madison township high schools have been chosen to represent the city area in Buckeye Girls' State at Columbus in June, the American Legion auxiliary announced today.

The Mansfield representatives will be Jean Turner, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Houston, 445 Glessner avenue, student at Mansfield Senior high, and Mary Jo Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hunter, 488 Clifton boulevard, student at Madison.

Mrs. Dwight McCullough, president of the Legion auxiliary, said today the quota for the Mansfield unit this year was only two girls, because of the increase of interest in the Girls' State.

For the past two years, Mansfield has been permitted to send three girls as its quota. Next year's candidates will be taken from the St. Peter's high school students, Mrs. McCullough said.

Girls' State, patterned after the Boys' State held yearly by the Ohio Legion, will get under way on June 19 at Capital university, Columbus, and continue through June 26.

Choosing of the two Mansfield area girls has been under the direct supervision of Mrs. Basil Knapp, Americanism chairman for the auxiliary. The two girls were selected on the basis of scholarship, personality and interest in civic government. Jean Turner sings and Mary Jo Hunter is a pianist.

Mrs. Trease Dies At 75

Mrs. Etta Trease, 75, widow of David Trease and a resident of 138 Chilton avenue, died Friday night at the Hick's Rest Home, following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Trease was born Aug. 20, 1873 in Ashland county but had spent most of her life in Dayton. She came to Mansfield last July. She was a member of the Grace Lutheran church at Dayton.

Surviving are a son, Emil Trease and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Harnish, both of Coldsprings, Ky.; two grandsons; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Pittman and Mrs. Barbara Kiley of Mansfield and Mrs. Lottie Berno of Ellwood, Pa.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where friends may call until Sunday evening. The body will then be removed to Dayton, where services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Grace Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. Hanshaw. Burial will be in Memorial Park at Dayton.

New Area Liquor Inspector Named

A new inspector-in-charge will take over supervision of the state liquor department's Sandusky enforcement district, which included Richland county, next Monday.

The new inspector-in-charge will be Hubert J. Lynch of Cleveland. He succeeds Adolph Swita of Cleveland, who will remain temporarily in the nine-county district.

Lynch has been an inspector in the Cuyahoga county sanitary engineer's office for nine years. He was an army sergeant in charge of enforcement of liquor and health codes for three and a half years.

Dies After Brief Illness

Weston Cutter Rites Monday

Weston Cutter, 65, of 86 Parkwood boulevard, died at People's hospital Friday afternoon, following a brief illness.

Mr. Cutter formerly was personnel director for the Ideal Electric company and at the time he retired last October was in the real estate business.

Born in Peoria, Ill., Nov. 7, 1883, Mr. Cutter came to Mansfield in 1933. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, the Elks lodge and Al Koran Shrine.

Surviving are his wife, Sanchen Strehlow Cutter; two sons, William R. Cutter of Fort Thomas, Ky., and Charles L. Cutter of West Lafayette, Ind.; a daughter, Mrs. Eugene Shoemaker of Mansfield; five grandchildren; one brother, Dr. W. W. Cutter of Peoria, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Harry McDougal of Riverside, Calif. A son, Weston Cutter jr., died in 1939.

Private funeral services will be conducted at the Finefrock funeral home at 11 a. m. Monday by Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial park. The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

Second Suspect Held

ASHLAND — Truman Watts, 23, second suspect in the robbery of three Jeromesville establishments early Thursday, was brought here Friday night from his home in Ghent where he was taken into custody by Akron police for Sheriff H. F. Rickenbrod of Ashland county.

Watts, charged with breaking and entering, was to be given hearing today in justice court.

James Perry, 59, also arrested at Ghent where he resides, was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond Friday after pleading not guilty to the same charge.

The two are accused of robbing the Jeromesville elevator, a service station and the Farm Bureau office at Jeromesville of a quantity of tools, shotgun shells, an air rifle, cigarets, cigars and a small quantity of money.

Galion Man Held On Two Charges

Francis Lucien Sutton, 27, of 223 South Columbia street, Galion, is being held in the county jail for sheriff's deputies from Bedford county, Shelbyville, Tenn.

Sutton was arrested by police on Lexington avenue at 4:55 p. m. yesterday. He was picked up on a warrent from Tennessee authorities charging him with the abandonment of a minor child and assault with attempt to commit murder.

Arabs Prove Reluctant

China's 'Betrayal' Blocks B-29 Base

WASHINGTON—(UP)—An Arab feeling that the United States "betrayed" China to the communists reportedly has hampered American efforts to get new long-term rights to the key B-29 base in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

King Ibn Saud, who fears Soviet aggressive designs against the whole Middle East, has proven reluctant to extend U. S. base rights, originally granted in a three-year agreement which expired last March 15.

Southern Russia's oil fields and industrial centers lie within bomber range of Dhahran. Cold war strategy said the presence of U. S. planes there has served to discourage Soviet pressure against Iran and Turkey.

Although negotiations for renewal of the Dhahran agreement started a month before it expired, no new pact has been signed to date. The United States has continued to use the base only under a series of temporary extensions.

The state department has been maintaining complete silence on the negotiations. Diplomatic sources, however, said that Ibn Saud requested assurance that this country would continue to stand by him in the event of any Soviet move against the Arab world.

They said the Arab monarch criticized U. S. refusal to send additional aid to Nationalist China, now that the communists have gained the upper hand.

They indicated that Ibn Saud expressed the view that the United States had "thrown over the Chinese" and was anxious lest he might suffer a similar fate.

Some U. S. officials said, however, that a new Dhahran agreement is now complete "except for minor details." These reports would indicate that Ibn Saud's doubts had been eased.

Snowfall Forces Plant 'Giveaway'

CLEVELAND — (UP) — David Brunswick took one gloomy look at the snow flying outside his Cleveland flower shop today and offered to give away 500 plants and 500 gardenias.

"I'll be honest and admit I'd be stuck with the plants anyhow," he said. "I'd rather give them to deserving people before Easter than dump them out after Easter."

Brunswick is the same florist who gave away a carload of Christmas trees in 1944 to persons with sons and daughters in the armed services.

Death Takes W. S. Leach

William Sheridan Leach, 80, a resident of 522 Springmill street, died Friday at Madison hospital, after an extended illness.

Mr. Leach was born Jan. 16, 1869 at Mifflintown, Pa., coming to Richland county at the age of 16. He was a farmer and a dairyman for many years before moving to Mansfield 40 years ago. At the time of his retirement six years ago because of ill health, he was a landscape gardener.

Mr. Leach was a member of the First Christian church and an active member of the Men's Bible class of the church.

Surviving are his wife, Minnie M. Dillon Leach; two brothers, Norman A. and D. L. Boone; three sisters, Mrs. Ira King, Mrs. Margaret Eisenberger and Mrs. Maude Briner, all of Mansfield; a number of nieces and nephews, among them William W. Enlow, former city safety-service director.

Services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home, conducted by Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Farm Bureau Groups Meet

The Farm Bureau District No. 2 Legislative cabinet will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the assembly room of the Ashland county courthouse, C. R. "Roy" Mengert, Richland county Farm Bureau Legislative chairman, announced today.

D. R. Stanfield, Farm Bureau legislative expert will outline the latest in farm-related legislation pending before state and national congresses.

Mrs. Clarence Greibling, will represent Richland county farm women at a home and community session of the meeting.

There will be a round-table discussion on the "Ways Of Raising the Rural Standards of Living."

FLOWERS FOR EASTER —

One Mansfield family will have home-grown sweet peas, carnations, roses, and orange blossoms for Easter decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Poole, 419 Sloane avenue, received the home-grown flowers from Mrs. Poole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sellers, of Florida. The Sellers, formerly of Mansfield, grew all of the flowers in their own backyard in the Sunshine state and sent them air mail, special delivery Thursday. The Pooles received them yesterday and report their home is already filled with the flowers' fragrance, straight from the south.

PERSONAL INTEREST—

The search for legendary treasure and a lost mine in the San Andres mountain of New Mexico, which has been going on for several months, is of particular interest to Mrs. W. F. Sickmiller, 165 Western avenue. Her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Cave, issued the permits for the land from the state land office in Santa Fe, where she is employed. The treasure hunt has behind it a fabulous tale of an early Spanish priest who heard of the gold and who went in search, only to be killed. The present search has already resulted in violent death for two men within the past month. M. E. Noss, who began the search, was shot on March 5. Another was fatally hurt in an airplane crash in connection with the search. Mrs. Cave, who has been in New Mexico for the past number of years, sent the story of the search to her mother here.

FIRST VOTER —

The first Mansfield absent voter's ballot in the May primary was cast yesterday — by a student of Hiram college. The voter was John E. White, of 105 Bowers avenue, who is home for Easter vacation. A junior, White is majoring in history and minoring in political science. He had a special interest in voting. His father, E. J. White, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sixth ward councilman.

Gives Callihan Recovery Chance

Charles R. Callihan, 429 Park avenue west, injured seriously in a fishing accident in Florida Wednesday, was reported today to have a good chance of recovery if no further complications develop.

Dale Callihan, 575 West Third street, said today his father's condition was serious last night, but the family hopes that Callihan may be able to return from Florida in three weeks.

The accident occurred while the real estate man was fishing along the shore at Pensacola with his son-in-law, Earl Robinson. Callihan slipped and fell on the rocks and suffered internal injuries.

He was operated on at Escobia General hospital, Pensacola, the night of the accident.

3 Hurt In City Mishaps

Police Blame Icy Streets

Three persons were injured in two traffic accidents in the city and three others in an accident in the Mansfield area last night and early this morning.

Police were kept busy last night and early today investigating a total of 11 traffic accidents in the city, most of them minor mishaps. Three of the accidents were attributed to slippery streets.

Highway patrolmen said the area accident also was due to icy conditions.

Injured in city accidents were:

Herman P. Wappner, 57, of 176 South Adams street, two fractured ribs.

Mrs. Herman P. Wappner, 50, of 176 South Adams street, a passenger in Wappner's car, abrasions of the head and body.

Donald L. Davis, 37, Fredericktown, R. D. 1, lacerations of the right ear and scalp.

All three were treated at General hospital and released.

The three injured in an accident near Crestline included:

Ruth LaFoy, 55, of Washington, D. C., broken nose, cuts and bruises about the head.

Ann LaFoy, 39, of Frederick, Md., fractured ankle, cuts and bruises.

Florence Tracy, 39, of Lima, cut on forehead, sprains and bruises.

The three women were taken to the Crestline hospital for treatment.

3-CAR CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. Wappner were injured in a three-car collision at the intersection of Park avenue east and Adams street at 7:23 p. m. Friday.

Wappner told police he was traveling north on South Adams street and entered the intersection at Park avenue east on the green light. Wappner's car collided with a car driven by Richard M. Pfleiderer, 21, of 214 Lind avenue, who was traveling east on Park avenue east.

After hitting Pfleiderer's car, Wappner's car skidded, a door came open, and the open door hit the left front fender of a third car headed west on Park avenue east which had stopped for the traffic light, police said. The third car was driven by Max H. Schaechter, 27, of 130 Indiana avenue.

Pfleiderer told police the light had just changed from red to green when the accident occurred.

Both Wappner's and Pfleiderer's cars were considerably damaged. Only damage to the third car was the damaged fender.

Davis was injured when he was struck by a Reliable cab driven by Zephaniah Lindsay jr., 121 East Fourth street at Fifth and Main streets at 11:55 p. m. yesterday, officers reported.

Police said Lindsay told them he was traveling south on Main street when he noticed Davis, walking, about to cross the street. He stopped to wait for Davis to cross, and Davis stopped too. Both started at the same time, and the cab hit Davis. Davis was arrested by police for intoxication.

Highway patrolmen said the Crestline accident occurred at about 4:30 a. m. today on U. S. Route 30-N, just outside the Crestline city limits. The women were traveling west at the time of the accident.

ROLLS 50 FEET

Patrolmen said the car in which they were riding skidded on an icy railroad overhead bridge just east of the Crestline city limits and rolled approximately 50 feet down an embankment.

In another city accident, Jack C. Vansteenburg, 21, of 304 Fifth avenue, was arrested by police for failing to yield the right-of-way.

The accident occurred at 3:06 a. m. today. Vansteenburg was traveling south on Junction street and while crossing the intersection at Park avenue east collided with a car traveling east on Park avenue east. The second car was driven by Herbert G. Arnold, of Mansfield, R. D. 4. Both cars were damaged.

Probe Effect of Atlantic Pact on Economy of United States

President Asks Study Of Measure

Resources Board Checks Industry

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The National Security Resources board is trying to determine the effect of the Atlantic pact on the American economy, officials disclosed today.

Experts of the board are making the study at President Truman's request. He wants to make sure that this country is able to provide the manpower and materials to meet the contemplated arm-to-Europe supplement to the 12-nation agreement.

The Resources board, working under the acting chairmanship of presidential assistant John R. Steelman, is not concerning itself with the proposed program's dollar effect on the economy. It is leaving that up to the President's council of economic advisors.

The board, however, is surveying the metals industries, the labor market and the nation's transportation network, among other things, to make sure that the pact will not put too great a strain on the U. S. industrial economy.

If it finds that the steel industry, for instance, cannot provide the necessary steel products to carry out the arms program completely without seriously curtailing the domestic supply, the board will recommend to Mr. Truman that he take steps to adjust either the domestic or the foreign demand, or both.

The board itself has no authority to order such adjustments. This is left up to the President.

Adjustments of the steel demands, for example, could be made through the Commerce department's voluntary allocation plan under which the industry sets aside enough of its production to meet strategic or essential orders.

The board's recommendations are secret. They will remain under wraps unless brought out into the open before some congressional committee.

The board is also continuing its spadework on a blueprint for meeting the necessities of war.

It is the board's job to tell President Truman how much of any given material would be needed to wage war and to recommend how that material should be obtained.

There, too, the board has the job of seeing how the government can obtain everything it needs without crippling the domestic supply.

Guaranty: Reds Can't Strike Back

Must Now Let Europe Rearm

THE CONNECTION between the Atlantic pact and the military assistance program which is to follow it becomes clear only when we realize how long it will take to organize the comparatively small army that Western Europe is aiming at. The most optimistic believe it might be done by 1952; others, who have good reason to know what they are talking about, say not sooner than 1955. In any event Western Europe will not be rearmed this summer or next winter or in the following summer.

Moreover, this Western European army is to be just about big enough to deal with the Russian divisions that are now in Eastern Germany. They are usually estimated at about thirty or forty divisions. But, of course, Russia can mobilize several hundred divisions.

The Western European army is designed, at a maximum, to make it impossible for Russia to invade Western Europe without mobilizing inside Russia. The theory is that it would take Russia not weeks, but some months to mobilize and move large additional armies into Europe. In that interval the American Air Force would raise havoc inside Russia and American reinforcements would be moving across the Atlantic.

★

BUT THE CRUCIAL question is what happens in the meantime. If Western Europe will not be able until 1952-1955 to resist the Red troops now in Germany, who is resisting them now?

The answer, of course, is that the United States is. How is it resisting them? By having made if sufficiently plain to the Kremlin that if the Red Army advances beyond its present lines in Europe, the Middle East and in Asia, it will be at war with the United States.

The knowledge that in a Russo-American war, America can strike without being struck, that Russia will be struck without being able to strike back, should, unless the Russian high command take leave of their senses, be a genuine guaranty against military aggression.

It is only because the American guaranty is effective that the whole project of European rearmament makes any sense. For otherwise the Russians would invade Western Europe before it could rearm and in order to prevent it from rearming. Therefore, it is not true to say — as many are saying — that the military assistance program is necessary in order to implement the pact. It is the pact, or more precisely the American guaranty which it records, that implements the military assistance program. Europe can rearm because it is protected.

What then is the purpose of rearming Western Europe? There are several purposes, all of them essentially political.

A modest increase in the number of available troops, suitably equipped, is desirable immediately to make sure that the governments can deal with indirect, internal aggression.

A gradual revival of the French Army is desirable in order to augment the diplomatic influence of France in the councils of Europe, to restore French self-confidence, and to enable France — when Germany is evacuated — to come to terms with Germany.

Finally, the development of the framework of a common European defense force is desirable, and should be encouraged. For it can be used to promote the unity of Europe and its independence as a new great world power, on a parity with Soviet Russia and the United States.

Health Plan Plea Looms

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman probably will take his plea for a national health program directly to the people, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said yesterday. He will ask Congress for it next week, the labor leader said.

Green was in a group which called on the president to present a report from a committee backing the president's compulsory health insurance program. The report contended that comprehensive voluntary insurance plans are blocked by "organized medicine's monopoly controls."

Talking with reporters after the White House call, Green said definitely that the President's health message will go to Congress next week. He went on:

"And then he probably will give the people a message over the radio."

Green did not indicate the time for such a plea.

The word that Mr. Truman is planning to make a fight for his health program followed introduction of another measure by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to which Green and other labor leaders took exception.

Italy Seeks Lands Already Forfeited

The issues of the former Italian colonies in Africa, Indonesia and southwest Africa are a tragic example of the old French saying that "The more the change, the more it is the same thing."

The venerable Count Carlo Sforza hurried to the United States a week before the signing of the North Atlantic treaty to announce, following an hour's conference with Secretary of State Dean Acheson, that Italy is united in demanding the return of her former African colonies.

Count Sforza and John Foster Dulles, as the United States representative opening the debate on disposition of the former Italian colonies, have apparently forgotten that Article 23 of the Treaty of Peace with Italy of Feebruary 10, 1947, unequivocally states "Italy renounces all right and title to the Italian territorial possessions in Africa, i.e., Libya, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland."

Italy demands the return of these colonies to relieve "population pressure." But during the nearly sixty years of Italian ownership of these colonies, citizens of Italy refuse to migrate there. Italy contends that recovery of her war-shattered economy depends upon obtaining the natural resources and labor of the native populations of Eritrea, Libya and Somaliland.

But the fact is that it cost Italy more than fifty millions dollars annually to administer the colonies because of the miserable inefficiency of the Italians as colonial administrators.

There is not the slightest evidence that Italy can do any better job of administration and development in the future than she did in the past. As a matter of fact the crushing of initiative under Mussolini's fascist regime and the ravages of the war upon Italian manpower give us every reason to believe that her administration would be infinitely less efficient.

Who will pay the price? It will be the American taxpayer. The present Italian economy is shored up almost entirely by the Marshall Plan. It is quite certain that even more American dollars will have to be given to Italy to pay the cost of her colonial ambitions.

The sheer impudence of the Dutch and Italians in telling the United States, upon whom their present economy and existence largely depend, that they would not join the North Atlantic Pact unless they could have their imperialist way in Indonesia and Africa is incredible.

Even more incredible is the demand by those two and other nations for arms simultaneously with the signing of the treaty.

Young Folk To Entertain

The Youth clubs of the First United Presbyterian church will present an unusual recorded program at the church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Members of the club have made a tape recording of songs and speaking parts pertaining to a series of pictures on "The Easter Witness."

The tape recording will be played while the pictures are being shown at the Sunday evening service.

When the recording was made, Mrs. Wayne Williams accompanied the songs on the piano, and Mrs. W. W. Webb, church organist, on the organ.

The program is open to the public.

The clubs meet at the church every Wednesday at 4 p. m. They will not meet next Wednesday because of Easter vacation, but will resume April 27 at 4 p. m. Moving pictures will be shown at the April 27 meeting.

Assisting the pastor with the Youth clubs are Mrs. Arlie Kiser, Mrs. Alice proctor, Mrs. Karl Wolford, Mrs. Lynn Robenstine, Mrs. James Courtney, Mrs Charles Kafer, Mrs. Harry Welker, Mrs. Clair Kirchhofer, Miss Martha Sauder, Mrs. Charles Shook, Mrs. Wayne Williams, and Paul Tapper.

Lamneck Asks for Architect

Seeks Welfare Unit Expert

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Employment of an architect by the state welfare department has been recommended by director J. H. Lamneck.

Lamneck, in a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, said the recommendation resulted from his examination of the construction at the Apple Creek State school near Wooster.

The welfare director made the following recommendations:

1. "The department of public welfare should employ its own architect to make preliminary plans for its proposed buildings so that plain and practical buildings can be constructed and frills and unnecessary ornate trimmings will be prevented."

2. "A method (should) be devised to prevent private architects, if employed, from drawing plans and specifications for constructing buildings, the cost of which will exceed the amount appropriated."

3. "Standard plans and specifications (should) be used for buildings of the same type instead of having separate plans for individual buildings."

The director told Lausche that while there has been considerable controversy over the Apple Creek institution that the buildings will be "substantially in accordance with plans and specifications."

"It is not the purpose of this communication to adversely criticize anyone or to question the good faith of those who conceived, planned and authorized the construction of this building, Lamneck said.

He added that "in my opinion, it is unwise to build ornate and fancy buildings with expensive accoutrements of no practical value in the use of the building when our need is to construct plain, fireproof, sanitary buildings of the smaller type which will give immediate relief instead of expending our resources on large buildings that have a tendency to defer and aggravate the solutions of the grave problem that confronts us."

Lamneck said that the building under construction at Apple Creek had ended up as "a general hospital at a feeble minded insitution where such elaborate general hospital facilities are not required."

ANIMAL ANTICS — Although they're not familiar with the religious meaning of Easter, the two members of the animal world shown above seem well pleased with their holiday finery—just as their human counterparts.

Tia, young orangutan at left, tries on a new bonnet and from her sedate look one would judge it is just the thing for a prim and proper young matron.

Pandora, the chimp shows no such control over her emotions in the photo at the right.

The new "duds" are a laugh to her. To top it all off, she is indulging in a pasttime few girls enjoy—riding a tricycle without using her hands.

RESOLUTION NO. 49-69
By MR. MILLER:
Declaring it necessary to improve West Sixth Street in the City of Mansfield from Mulberry Street to Sycamore Street by resurfacing with some suitable material.
BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO, three-fourths of all members elected thereto concurring:
Section 1. That it is necessary to improve West Sixth Street from Mulberry Street to Sycamore Street by resurfacing with some suitable material.
Section 2. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the property to be improved, and heretofore prepared by the Engineer and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service, be and the same are hereby approved.
Section 3. That fifty per cent (50%) of the whole cost of said improvement, less the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot front plan upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit: all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the property improved, which lots and lands are hereby deemed to be specially benefitted by said improvement; estimate shall be as follows:
City share $13,200.00
Assessed property share 9,200.00
That said cost of improvement shall include the expense of preliminary and other surveys, of printing notices, resolutions and ordinances as required by law, and the serving of notices and the cost of construction together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other expenditures.
Section 4. That the assessments to be levied shall be paid in three (3) annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed may at his option pay such assessment in cash within 30 days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.
Section 5. That the bonds of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.
Section 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections together with any real estate therein purchased or appropriated and the cost of any appropriation proceeding therefore and the damages awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon and cost and expense of any such award, shall be paid out of the 5/6 Gas Tax Fund and appropriated therefrom.
Section 7. That this Resolution be in full force and effect from and after the earliest period allowable by law.

Japs Fear Moral Break-Down As Youngsters Hold Hands

TOKYO — (INS) — Japanese, who only a few years ago had black-kimonoed ruffians ready to take care of any youngsters engaging in "decadent" western customs such as hand-holding, are worried today about morals in post-war Japan.

Newspapers and magazines are filled with complaints about loose morals, particularly among Japan's "newly freed" young women.

Taiko Hirabayashi, a woman writer for the Women's Review, said educational standards for women were reduced during the war years so that they "lacked the common sense necessary to adjust themselves to their circumstances."

She said "their natural inclination toward promiscuity, boldness and adventure has been increased by misinterpretation of democracy."

At a roundtable sponsored by the Literary Society in Tokyo a critic, Fusao Hayashi, noted disparagingly that "boys and girls no longer shy away from walking together hand in hand."

Tatsuzo Ishikawa, chairman of the roundtable, added that "sometimes they go to extremes just for the sake of staging a revolt against mental inhibitions within themselves."

All critics agree that prostitution in Japan has become much more general and open, but some argue that it is no worse than before the war.

Dr. Otoya Miyagi, a Keio university lecturer, siad that "what people used to do in the old days under the cloak of traditional institutions is now being done openly in defiance of tradition."

There are many arguments on how to end the era of post-war immorality.

Many critics pin the entire blame on the disrupted economy and say that things will settle down to normal after there are decent work opportunities for all Japanese.

Others, who are in the minority, argue that immorality is the temporary price Japanese must pay for their new freedoms. They contend that Japanese living habits will have to be changed to permit the people to incorporate the new freedom into their lives properly.

AMA Cracks At Critics

CHICAGO — (INS) — The American Medical association made a blistering reply today to charges that its so-called "monopolistic controls" were hampering voluntary health insurance programs.

The charge was made by the Committee for the Nation's health.

Dr. Elmer L. Henderson, chairman of the AMA board of trustees declared:

"This is an irresponsible statement by an irresponsible organization. The charges are false in fact, and false in implication.

"If there are any saboteurs at work seeking to destroy voluntary health insurance, they will undoubtedly be found in the membership of the Committee for the Nation's Health which has repeatedly sought to discredit and decry the voluntary health insurance movement."

Dr. Henderson accused the committee of having done nothing for the nation's health since it was organized. He added:

"It was organized solely as a propaganda agency for the socialism of medicine and has now apparently embarked on a campaign to discredit the voluntary system.

"The states and county medical societies throughout the United States and the AMA are proud of the part they have played in the phenomenal growth of the voluntary health insurance systems which now provide proper health protection for more than 52 million people."

Horoscope

For Sunday, April 17
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

SUNDAY'S astrological forecast is for a day of high tension excitement and clamor, with all matters suddenly bounding to a dramatic climax, in which heart, home, business, finance and career are combined in a spectacular or quite unpredictable denouement. All affairs move strikingly to the unexpected culmination, upheaving, disorganizing, even joyously and dramatically since there are stabilizing factors in the background to be depended upon. Older heads may curb rash and erratic temperaments, while giving blessings to sensational moves and festivities.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of dynamic and swift-moving events, in which all contacts, desires and adventures move in high tempo, with the active or tacit cooperation of wise heads or sympathetic and understanding hearts. Be guided by such in the more practical and constructive issues, should bewilderment, sensationalism, or an unforeseen climax to startling events negative the rational mind supplanted by emotions. A complete unheaval of life interests is probably, but happily, often breath-taking in its whirl and denouement.

A child born on this day may be prone to sweep all before it in its lofty flights, thoughts, and actions, all along the unusual, spectacular and exciting way of its dynamic career.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION NO. 49-70
By Mr. Swihart:

Declaring it necessary to improve State Street in The City of Mansfield by resurfacing with some suitable material.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO, three-fourths of all members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1. That it is necessary to improve State Street by resurfacing with some suitable material.

Section 2. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the property to be improved, and heretofore prepared by the Engineer and now in the office of the Director of Public Service, be and the same are hereby approved.

Section 3. That fifty per cent (50%) of the whole cost of said improvement, less the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the Foot Front plan upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit: all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the property improved, which lots and lands are hereby deemed to be specially benefitted by said improvement; estimate shall be as follows:

City Share $2,382.00
Assessed Property Share $2,218.00

That said cost of improvement shall include the expense of preliminary and other surveys, of printing notices, resolutions and ordinances as required by law, and the serving of notices and the cost of construction together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other expenditures.

Section 4. That the assessments to be levied shall be paid in three (3) annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed may at his option pay such assessment in cash within 30 days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

Section 5. That the bonds of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.

Section 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections together with any real estate therein purchased or appropriated and the cost of any appropriation proceeding therefore and the damage awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon and cost and expense of any such award, shall be paid out of the General Fund and appropriated therefrom.

Section 7. That this Resolution be in full force and effect from and after the earliest period allowable by law.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

JOE PALOOKA

Joe SPENDS SEVERAL DAYS WITH DR. SILVA IN PONTA PORA, AND GATHERS AS MUCH INFORMATION AS POSSIBLE... HE TAKES ANTI-MALARIA AND OTHER SHOTS.

I WEESH YOU DON' TRY, SENHOR... BUT YOU EENSEEST. VERY WELL...WHEN YOU REACH THEES PLACE...FIND ANTONIO... YOU CAN TRUST DAT LEETLE EENDIAN...

GOOD.

PLEASE...YOU BE CAREFUL... EEF YOU NEED ME...YOU SEN' ANTONIO... I HOPE YOU GOOD LUCK.

THANK YOU, DOCTOR. I'M VERY GRATEFUL TO YOU.

I'LL LOOK OVER THE MAP DR. SILVA GAVE ME...

LET'S SEE... I PICK UP MY INTERPRETER AT CUIABA'... WE STRIKE INTO THE JUNGLE AT THIS POINT.

BLONDIE

MAY I BORROW YOUR RAKE, DAGWOOD?

YEH, BUT DON'T FORGET TO RETURN IT

I'M INSULTED! YOU PRACTICALLY CALLED ME A THIEF!

I DON'T MIND YOUR CALLING ME A THIEF, BUT I DON'T LIKE THE WAY YOU SAID IT

BELIEVE ME, THIS IS THE LAST TIME I'LL EVER BORROW ANYTHING FROM YOU

FELIX

THIS TIME THERE'S NO MISTAKE!

WE MUST STOP THAT ROBBERY!

A TAILOR!

ORPHAN ANNIE

THE HENS ARE STARTING TO LAY—AND WITH TWO OF THE COWS COMING FRESH NEXT WEEK WE'LL SOON HAVE SOME MILK MONEY, TOO—

THINK NOTHING OF IT, FLOSSY—I AIN'T, PRETTIED NONE—DON'T AIM TO—

4-16-49

"SILENCE IS GOLDEN—IT'S PAID YOU—LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY"—BY CRACKY, I'M AGREEABLE—IF ONLY I CAN KEEP FROM GOIN' CRAZY TRYIN' TO FIGGER IT OUT—

HELLO, ANNIE—HM-M—YOU KNOW, I GOT A PROBLEM—YOU'RE A SMART ONE—KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT, TOO—ARE YOU GOOD AT FIGGERIN' RIDDLES?

NOPE! I HATE RIDDLES—Y'GOT A COUPLE O' CHOCOLATE BARS—FOR CASH?

TERRY & PIRATES

4-17

HEY, CHOPS! THOUGHT YOU AND CURRENCY WEREN'T ON SPEAKING TERMS. WHAT'S UP?

THE REWARD OF VIRTUE, FLY-BOYS. A PIGEON WITH A FAT POKE HAS DROPPED INTO OL' CHOPS LAP...

...BUSINESS TYPE, NAMED TEEK, WHOSE TRADE BLEW UP IN THE CIVIL WAR, WANTS TO HEAD FOR GREENER PASTURES—AND THIS CASH ADVANCE SAYS THE BOY'S BOUGHT A RIDE.

GOLLY, CHOPS! WE CAN'T LEAVE NOW. SPRAY WILL BE BACK IN A COUPLE OF WEEKS...

BUM CHOICE, CHAZZ. EITHER WE TAKE THIS CHARTER, OR WE PEARL-DIVE IN THE HOTEL KITCHEN TO ERASE OUR TAB.

AND IN ANOTHER HOTEL ROOM...

...BUT, TEEK, ARE YOU SURE IT'S SAFE?

REALLY, GIRL! YOU MUST TRUST ME.

DICK TRACY

LEAPING THROUGH THE FRONT WINDOW AT HEADQUARTERS, THE BOXER RETURNS TO HIS HOME.

THE DOOR WASN'T LATCHED. HE'S GOING INSIDE.

HE THINKS HIS MASTER'S STILL THERE.

HERE, BOY! HERE, BOY!

SO HE DIDN'T WANT TO COME BACK, EH?

HE SEEMED TO WANT TO GUARD THE PLACE.

30 MINUTES LATER

BOYS, OUR CHANCE HAS COME. THE OLD MAN'S DEAD NOW WE CAN SEARCH THE HOUSE.

LET'S GO, "PEAR-SHAPE".

GASOLINE ALLEY

5-15

THIS ISN'T THE FIRST TIME, MR. WALLET, SO YOU'VE GOT THINGS FOR THE BABY.

YES AND NO. WE'VE LENT ABOUT EVERYTHING AND IT'S STILL OUT.

WE'RE USING OUR BABY CARRIAGE, BUT WE CAN LET YOU TAKE THE BASSINET.

THAT'S THOUGHTFUL, BIX, AND I THINK WE'LL ACCEPT.

NINA, DO YOU REMEMBER WHAT POLONIUS IN HAMLET SAID? "NEITHER A BORROWER NOR A LENDER BE!"

HE MUST HAVE BEEN AN OLD BACHELOR!

LIL ABNER

HOW KIN YO' BE SO CRUEL TO A OLE BAT LIKE ME?—WHY DON'T YO' MARRY SOME YOUNG SKONK—ANY YOUNG SKONK?

IT DON'T MATTER HOW REPULSIVE HE IS.!" AH WON'T OBJECK—JEST SO LONG AS HE KIN SUPPORT US BOTH.!"

AH IS SICK AN' TIRED O' POVERTY!! AH WANTS T'WEAR A HAT—AN' SHOES—AN' BE A SASSIETY LADY!!"

OH, GRANNY, YO' KNOWS AH'LL NEVAH MARRY ANYBODY BUT LI'L ABNER—AN' HE'LL NEVAH (SOB) AX ME TO, WHILE HE'S IN HIS RIGHT MIND!!

(HMM—IN A FEW NIGHTS COMES YOKUM'S MOON—WHICH AFFECKS TH' MINDS O' ALL MALE YOKUMS—SO THIET THEY ACKS CONTRARI-WISE.!")

BRICK BRADFORD

WHAT'S THIS ABOUT A SEA SERPENT IN THE WITCHWATER, BRADFORD?

OH, JUST A RUMOR, I GUESS!

YOU'LL PARDON ME, MASTER, BUT I COULDN'T 'ELP OVER'EARING!

YES, DESBY—WHAT IS IT?

WHY, IT SEEMS, SIR, THERE 'AS BEEN A SERPENT OR SUCH SIGHTED IN THE WITCHWATER, SIR.

W'ILE IN TOWN FOR SUPPLIES, SIR—I AGAIN 'EARD O' IT! THE POPULACE IS QUITE UPSET!

BIP BIRBY

HAD ENOUGH, FAT BOY? YOU'RE LUCKY I DIDN'T PITCH YOU OVER THE CLIFF!

HONEY, WE'LL NOT RIDE TO INDIAN ROCK AGAIN...I WAS HORRIBLY DEPRESSED UP THERE...

BECAUSE OF AN ACCIDENT YEARS AGO? STUART, DEAR, DON'T BROOD ABOUT IT...IT WAS A BEAUTIFUL SPOT... AND I NEVER FELT SO SAFE IN MY LIFE!

JIGGS

WHERE ARE YOU GOING-DADDY?

TO THE DOCTOR'S OFFICE-

SO YOU WANT SOMETHING TO CURE INSOMNIA?

THAT'S RIGHT-DOCTOR-

PERHAPS THE TROUBLE IS YOU GO TO BED TOO EARLY-MR JIGGS-

OH-NO-THE TROUBLE IS I STAY OUT TOO LATE-

AND I NEED SOMETHING THAT'LL KEEP MY WIFE FROM WAKING UP WHEN I TIPTOE INTO THE HOUSE AT FOUR IN THE MORNING-

PENNY

COULD I POSSIBLY TAKE THIS COOKING COURSE, FATHER?

MOTHER WANTS TO TAKE IT TOO.

THEY TEACH HOW TO MAKE ALL THE LUSH SAUCES AND THE MOST UTTERLY EXOTIC DISHES-

WHY DO YOU WANT TO TAKE IT?

SO THAT WE CAN FEED YOU LIKE AN EMPEROR OF OLD. YOU'LL FEAST IN ORIENTAL SPLENDOR. YOU'LL EAT STRANGE WONDERFUL FOODS. NECTAR AND...

LOOK!

COULD ANYBODY AROUND THIS HOUSE POSSIBLY MAKE A DECENT CUP OF COFFEE?

TILLIE

WOW! IS BUSINESS PICKING UP!

LISTEN! MR. TWILLEY WON'T BE BACK BUT HE'S DOUBLED HIS ORDERS

HE'S TRYING TO MAKE ME SORRY I SNUBBED HIM

HOORAY!

MAC! WALLY! MISS PUSHBUTTON! LOOK AT THIS!

WELL, HE WON'T BE BACK

WHAT A RELIEF TO BE RID OF AN UNWELCOME SUITOR

4-16 RUSS CUSTOVER

AND, TILLIE, I MUST TELL YOU THAT I LOVE YOU

OH, DEAR!

TEBBE AND SLATS

EVEN IF WE KILLED HIM, HE'S LUCKIER THAN IF HE SHOWED HISSELF IN CRABTREE CORNERS T' FACE WHAT HE'S GOTTA FACE.!!

THAT'S THE WAY I FIGGER IT TOO, POP.

W-WHAT HAPPENED--OH, HELLO SLATS--POP--NICE O' YOU BOYS T' GIVE ME THIS OUTSTANDIN' KIND O' WELCOME!!

THIS TROUBLE AIN'T NOTHIN' COMPARED T' WHAT YOU'DA HAD SHOULD YOU GO DIRECT T' CRABTREE CORNERS--READ THIS.!!

Crabtr

MICKEY MOUSE

WELCOME TO THE PLANET OF BE-JUNIOR!

ER... THANK YOU VERY MUCH!

PGEE!

YOU HEAR, EEGA BEEVA? WE'VE DISCOVERED "BE-JUNIOR", A BRAND NEW PLANET!

PGEE!

BUT YOU SPEAK ENGLISH! HOW...?

THAT'S EASY...

WE HEAR YOUR EARTHLY RADIO SHOWS UP HERE!

"WHO WAS THAT LADY I SAW YOU WITH LAST NIGHT?"

"THAT WAS NO LADY! THAT WAS A RUNAWAY HORSE! YUK! YUK! YUK!"

4-10

POPEYE

THE ARMY HAD TWO—!!

AND A PLANE DROPPED ONE—!!

ON A LOST BOMB ISLANDS??

THE ISLANDS WERE CREATED BY THE—!!

THAT'S WHAT WE HEAR!!

I BELIEVE IT!!

THE LOST BOMB ISLANDS, STRANGER THAN FICTION!

THE GUMPS

ODD, ISN'T IT? A COUPLE OF DAYS AGO, WE WERE READY TO BELIEVE PROFESSOR MOOSEYE HAD SUPERNATURAL POWERS.. NOW, THE MYSTERY TURNS OUT TO BE JUST HIS FATHER...

BUT WHAT A FATHER--TWENTY-FIVE INCHES TALL AND TOUGHER THAN A FIFTY-CENT STEAK!

MYSTERY'S ONLY HALF SOLVED.... WE STILL DON'T KNOW WHY HE KEPT HIS MIDGET DADDY SUCH A SECRET...

MAYBE THE LITTLE FELLOW IS A FUGITIVE..

A FUGITIVE? FROM WHOM?..

MRS. GUMP! COUNTESS DE BULGE IS DOWNSTAIRS TO SEE YOU!

GUS EDSON

THE MEBBS

IT IS SO NICE OF YOU AND RUDY TO HAVE THIS PARTY FOR ME, FANNY DEAR...

IT'S OUR PLEASURE, ROSETTA--WE'VE BEEN LOOKING FORWARD TO YOUR VISIT TO NORTHVILLE...

THIS IS SOME SWANKY WANG DANGY, FANNY--I HOPE YOU GOT ENOUGH FOOD!

I SUPPOSE YOU'VE MET OUR CHARMING GUEST OF HONOR, AMBY?

I SHORE HAVE, RUDY--MY BUT THESE IS THE BIGGEST JUICY LOOKIN' OLIVES I EVER DID SEE!

MAYBE IT'S NOTHING SERIOUS, BUT WITH ALL THE TOUGHS IN TOWN AND THAT MYSTERIOUS PHONE CALL SUMMONING THE CONSTABLE, I'VE GOT TO CHECK EVEN IF MY SENTENCE IS INCREASED FOR BREAKING OUT.'

A GANG CARRYIN' STUFF INTO THE CELLAR IN THE MIDDLE O' THE NIGHT, AN' RIFF DIRECTIN' 'EM. LOOKS MIGHTY ILLEGAL TO ME.

WE'LL COME UP ON 'EM GRADUAL-LIKE...

HUH—THIS GUN D-DON'T WORK— IT MUS' BE JAMMED.'

JAMMED? THAT'S VERY INTERESTING!

SANDUSKY HIGH school has its sights set on regaining the state golf championship. . . . The Blue Streaks won the title in 1947 anl came in a good fifth last year. . . . Coach Vic Malinovsky has his first five men back. . . . They are: Pete Koelsch, Ted Kastor, Larry Swanson, Tom Goodsite and Jack Sharp. . . . Phil Masi, Boston Braves catcher, says Johnny Sain has three curves of different speeds and a slider to go along with coolness, control and a great competitive spirit. . . . Sain's fast ball, says Masi, is used mainly as a waste pitch. . . . Students at a Queen's, N. Y., high school get credit towards a school athletic letter by taking a course in roller skating. . . . Stan Musial, Card star, has a big ambition. . . . He wants to be the first National leaguer since 1925 to lead the loop hitters in successive years. . . . Max Lanier and Fred Martin, suspended baseballers, are reported preparing to enter semi-pro baseball in Canada.

PAUL CARBETTA, Mansfield pro boxer and former Golden Gloves champ, has been taken to Veterans' hospital in Brecksville, Ohio. . . . He has tuberculosis. . . . The Purple Heart veteran had been training the fine young Friendly House boxing squad and refereeing amatur shows sponsored by the F-H. . . . The Notre Dame basketball team has had a better than .500 mark for 26 straight years. . . . Since 1898, the Irish cagers have won 599 games and lost 238.

CARY MIDDLECOFF'S dad was credited with an assist to Herman Keiser in the Masters golf tourney. . . . Keiser had been bothered by arthritis in his right wrist and hand during the winter tour. . . . The elder Middlecoff, a dentist like his son, suggested that acid condition caused the trouble and told Keiser to take aspirin and soda. . . . The trouble vanished and Keiser came up with a 68 to tie for the second round lead. . . . Herman took only 27 putts in getting the 68.

Buckeye League Fails to Organize At Meeting Here

Plans to form the Buckeye semi-pro baseball league failed to materialize last night at a meeting of the interested teams held at Penn Auto - Sporting Goods.

Eight teams—Mansfield Penn Auto, Galion, Shelby Merchants, Shelby Blues, Tiffin, Marion, Leesville, New Washington — were represented at the meeting but a majority said they had gone too far in their scheduling plans to join this year.

Chick Skelly, the Galion promoter who had called the meeting said that he will attempt to band together several other cities soon, and if this should fail will begin organization for next year.

Marion Races Are Cancelled

MARION—The stock car races set for the Marion speedway tomorrow afternoon have been called off because of the weather, it was announced this morning.

The races will be held May 1.

Four 3-Year-Olds Get Test for Derby

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. — (AP) — There'll be some more weeding out of the Kentucky Derby chaff here today in the Chesapeake stakes.

Four of the seven 3-year-old colts entered for the $30,000 pot are being tested for worth to run in the Louisville calssic. The owners of Capot, Colonel Mike, Swap Out and Taran should know after the Chesapeake if they've got a contender for the 1949 championship.

White Sox Peddle Sub Backstop

CHICAGO — (UP) — The Chicago White Sox have sold Ralph Weigel, their number two catcher, to the Washington Senators in a straight cash deal, General Manager Frank Lane of Chicago announced today.

The amount involved was not disclosed.

Weigel was regarded as the Sox' outstanding rookie during their dismal 1948 season. He hit .233 in 66 games, and probably would have had the first string catching job if the Sox hadn't obtained Joe Tipton from Cleveland in a trade.

Weigel came to the Sox at the opening of the 1948 season after a trade with the Indians' Baltimore farm club for Outfielder Thurman Tucker. He previously played with Lima, O., Charlestown, W. Va., and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bobby Hofman, rookie second baseman, and Outfield Don Mueller are on the New York Giant injured list. Hofman, slated to open the season at second, injured the middle finger of his throwing hand and Mueller hurt his shoulder yesterday against the Cleveland Indians at Richmond, Va.

★

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Gil Hodges a converted catcher, will be the Brooklyn Dodger first baseman again this season. Chuck Conners who had a three game whirl at the station, probably will be kept for awhile as protection. He belongs to the Montreal Royals of the International league. Hodges came up with one hit and handled nine chances without an error in the Dodgers' 6-1 conquest of the New York Yankees yesterday.

★

CHICAGO —(AP)— The Cubs-White Sox annual spring series was slated for Comiskey Park today after the opener of the three-game affair, set for Wrigley field yesterday, was cancelled by rain and snow.

If weather interferes today, the last game will be attempted Sunday in Wrigley field. The Cubs took two of three games from the Sox earlier in California.

★

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Cool weather was expected to cut attendance at today's exhibition tilt between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers.

Hal Gregg, former Brooklyn Dodger who won only two and lost four for the Bucs last year, got the starting assignment from Manager Billy Meyer. He was to be opposed by Hal Newhouser, ace of the Tiger mound staff.

★

BOSTON—(AP)—With their five game pre-season intra-city series, which includes a tie, deadlocked, the Boston Braves and Red Sox resume activities today at Tom Yawkey's trim Fenway park.

The National league champions, who suffered a 6-2 setback behind righthand Ace Johnny Sain on their own premises Thursday, will attempt to gain the edge with Bill Voiselle flinging.

Joe McCarthy planned to open with Lefty Mel Parnell, who probably will be followed by Chuck (Bonus Pitcher) Stobbs.

★

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— Two right handers, Dick Starr and Jim Hearn, will be the starting pitchers this afternoon when the St. Louis Browns and the St. Louis Cardinals open thier two-game city series.

The Cards may have a new first sacker on the job. Glenn Nelson may be at first for the National league club.

★

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —(UP)— Manager Bucky Walters of Cincinnati today nominated veteran Ken Raffensberger, 31-year-old south-paw, to pitch for the Reds against the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league opener at Cincinnati Tuesday.

The Reds were to have met Indianapolis of the American association yesterday but rain washed out the contest. The two teams will try again today.

Ray Mueller will be the catcher in the St. Louis game, but from there, Walters has not decided who will fill out the remainder of the lineup.

YANKEE OUTFIELD HOPEFULS—Charley Keller, Gene Woodling, Johnny Lindell and Hank Bauer, (left to right), are fighting for places in New York Yankee outfield this season. Joe DiMaggio, regular centerfielder, and Tommy Henrich, who alternates between the outfield and first base, were not with the team at Cincinnati when the picture was taken.

A half-dozen lady keglers hit above 500 in the Women's Commercial B league last night. Marty Dye of All State Freight led the way with 4526 on games of 201-175-150. City champion Evelyn Marshman put up 525 for Gay Nineties and Ev Swank of All-State had the top single game 221, and a 522 series.

Helen Wilhelm, Urschel Insurance rolled 521, Sis DeWeese, All-State Freight, had 519 and Marceda Heiser, K and D Cafe, 515.

Gay Nineties still leads the league by nine games over Ingram-Martin but took a severe jolt when beaten three straight games by Hart's Dairy store. Southern Hotel swept three from Montgomery Ward and K and D Cafe had a sweep over Saprano's Bar.

★

A 566 by Stan Mansfield led Independent league bowlers. Vincent Kutschall was runner-up with 535, Linville Frary had 532 and Charlie Swank, 526. John Holda had 513, and G. Yarman 531.

★

Best score of the night was a 578 by N. Longshore in the Barnes Manufacturing league at Richland Recreation. Longshore had games of 179-216-183. Nick Loris had 565 in the same league while John Rhoads posted 536. Gene Rudolph, the usual league leader, had a 509 and Walker a 502.

Virginia Rhoads led the women with 486.

Madison Clash Off

The off-again-on-again baseball game between Madison and Mansfield Senior high schools was off-again today. Senior high Coach Mike Byelene said it was doubtful if the game would be played next week because both teams already have two games scheduled.

The contest was to have been played at 10 a. m. this morning at Blue Goose field after having been postponed Thursday by wet grounds.

Hall-Whittler Bout Tops On Wrestle Card

Topped by the Stacy-Whitey Whittler grudge battle, Promoter Clete Kauffman will present one of his best wrestling cards tonight at 8:30 in the Ashland road armory.

Vying with the headliner for interest will be the tag-team semi-windup. In this one, Wild Bill Zimovich and Buz Jones, a pair of lads who believe in mat mayhem, go against George Strickland, Columbus and Walter Achue, Dayton. The latter pair of grapplers are both college men and believe in the finer aspects of the game.

Whittler, one of the top ruffians in the cauliflower ear business, has twice beaten Hall in Mansfield but the last encounter ended under somewhat dubious circumstances. Hall was giving Whittler quite a going over until the Dutchman suddenly came to life and twisted Stacy's hip out of place.

Commissioner Harold Bloodgood immediately put the clamps on Whittler's share of the gate with the stipulation that the money would be forthcoming when Whittler tangled with Hall again in Mansfield.

Both of the feature attractions will be over the one-hour route, two of three falls.

The preliminary will pit Pancho Valentine against Angelo Martinelli with a 30-minute limit. Martinelli has replaced Danny Morris.

Snow Brings Out Cagers At YMCA

Evidently the athletes around the YMCA took a cue from the weatherman last night and decided to stage just one more basketball game. Leba Specials and DeMolay hooked up with Leba coming out on the long end of a 65-55 score.

Each team had a hot-shot scorer. J. Young tallied 32 points for Leba while Oswalt reached up 28 for DeMolay.

Joe Admits He May Be Out for Year

BALTIMORE, Md.—(UP) Feeling a lot more chipper than he did when he got out of the hospital, Jolting Joe DiMaggio was frankly looking forward today to his return to baseball,

However, the Yankee Clipper with the clipped heel was willing to concede that his return may not come this year.

"I have no idea of retiring from baseball," said DiMaggio yesterday in his hotel room. "These things (the calcium deposits doctors found in his heel bone) have been cured before. It's just a question of time."

OUT TUESDAY

The famous slugger has to stay here at least until Tuesday, paying daily visits to Johns Hopkins hospital. He said he didn't know what Dr. George Bennett would tell him to do then, but he added there was little likelihood of another operation like the one Dr. Bennett performed last winter to remove a bone spur from the right heel.

The 34-year-old outfielder insisted that he could "get back into shape in four or five days—if my heel was well."

DiMag wasn't using crutches as he moved about the hotel room, but he showed reporters a sort-of "built in crutch" in his right shoe. A block of wood had been fastened under the arch in order to take the pressure off the heel. Dr. Bennett told him to stay off the heel as much as possible.

As for his present treatments, DiMag said he merely lies on a table while "they shoot an X-ray at me for a minute-and-three-quarters at a time."

DiMaggio frankly considered the possibility that he won't get back into uniform this year, a possibility that has lessened the Yankees' chances of winning the American league pennant.

"Even if I couldn't get back to the Yankees this year, I feel I could come back after a year's rest," he said. "I have plenty of hitting ability left as long as my foot holds out."

He was asked whether he wanted to get a managerial job if he can't play again, but he indicated the question was premature.

"I'd just as soon wait until I get to that bridge before I try to cross it," said Joe. "I feel that I have a few more years of active baseball ahead of me and so far I've never given a managerial job a thought."

Team Wants Games

The Zanesville Black Stars are interested in scheduling games with semi-pro baseball teams in the Mansfield area, according to manager Jack Rush. Rush may be contacted at 1503 Walnut street, Zanesville.

Tribe Wins By 16-11; Try for Crowd Mark

(Compiled From Wire Services)

NEW YORK—Leroy (Satchel) Paige of the Cleveland Indians, who throws overhand, underhand or side-arm, depending upon his mood, will endeavor to throw a monkey wrench into the home-coming of the New York Giants today.

The Giants and Indians will put the finishing touches on their spring exhibition series today at the Polo Grounds and conclude it formally tomprrow in the same park.

An attendance of 20,000 is expected but if only 532 fans turn out, the Tribe will equal the spring tour attendance mark of 225,000 set by the New York Yankees in 1946.

HITTERS HOT

A capacity throng of 9,110 turned out yesterday in Richmond, Va., to see the base hit-happy clubs whack away at each other's pitchers until the Indians eventually won 16 to 11. The crowd brought Tribe attendance to 224,468 for 33 spring games.

The Yankees made their mark for approximately 68 games in the West Indies, Central America, and United States.

The Giants-Indians tour, which has thrilled thousands of small-town fans in recent games, ground out more hitting feats at Richmond.

The clubs bashed out 33 hits, 18 for the Indians and 15 for the Giants. A relative low of five home runs was offered, but they were healthy wallops by Joe Gordon, Bobby Hofman, Willard Marshall, Mickey Vernon and Ray Murray.

The Giants were leading 6 to 3 when the Tribe exploded in the seventh with seven runs. They added five in the eighth and one for good measure in the ninth.

The Gotham maulers did some lusty hitting themselves. Victim of 10 hits and seven runs was the Tribe's star lefty, Gene Bearden.

The Indians' three homers gave them a total of 43 thus far this spring. They hit 155 for the regular 1948 season. The Giants have hit 38, and Sid Gordon has 13 of them.

Lavelli Sells Compositions, Keeps Cage Ability

NEW HAVEN, CONN. — (AP) — Professional basketball lost one of its greatest potential attractions last night when Tony Lavelli decided to concentrate on music.

Yale's all-America cage game ace turned down numerous pro offers, including one for $11,000 from Syracuse. He was also the target of Boston of the Basketball Association of America, which had that loop's rights to dicker with him.

Tony's mind was made up shortly after he sold three of his compositions to the Broadcast Music Corporation of New York — "Cocktail Time at Dusk and "Scottish Lad and His Lassie," ballads, and "You're the Boppiest Bee-Bop," a novelty tune.

Unique Golf Meet Has Four Ball, 16 Pros

—Bob Hamilton, the Landover, Md., golf professional, often has made the remark:

"Gee, I wish I could putt like Bobby Locke."

Hamilton's wish comes true today. For Locke, the Johannesburg, South Africa, star will do the putting for Hamilton. Locke will be the putter on Bob's four-man club in the four-team specialists match of the $10,000 Cavalier Specialists Golf tournament.

Hamilton will be the driver and team captain. Each of the four team players will make only the shot for which he is most famous. Bob's long iron specialist will be Jimmy Demaret, of Ojai, Calif. The approach shots will be those of Gene Sarazen, of Germantown, N. Y., who captained his 1948 specialists team to triumph over one coached by Walter Hagen.

The "Hamilton Specialists" will be matched with a four man club led by Jim Ferrier of San Francisco.

Paired in the other match will be four-man teams captained by Ellsworth Vines, of Iowa City, Iowa, and Cary Middlecoff, of Memphis, Tenn., both long irons experts.

City's Churches Herald Resurrection In Sermon and Song

Plays, Communion Mark Celebration of Easter

By NITA BRANSON
(N.-J. Church Editor)

The triumphant fact of Christ's resurrection from the dead and its ageless effect on humanity will keynote all sermons and music tomorrow in city churches here. Because His rising from the tomb brings for men life eternal, tomorrow's worship will be the highlight of the year's religious observances.

Services will include sermon and song and the baptism of infants and adults, the reception of new members and the dedication of children.

At the Park Avenue Baptist church there will be two services, at 8 a. m., and again at 10:30 a. m.. Dr. W. M. Taylor will speak and baptize during the first service and dedicate infants during the second.

There will be similar services at the St. Paul Lutheran church where the first 8 a. m. service will be inaugurated. Members will meet again at 10:30 a. m. Rev. John G. Gensel will give the sermons at both services.

There will be a program by the children as well as sermon by the pastor, Rev. I. E. Oberholtzer at the Mansfield Church of the Brethren. Tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. an Easter play, "It is Just Beginning" will be presented.

Dedication of small children will take place during the Sunday school hour at the Grace Gospel church where Rev. James E. Davey will preach.

PRESENTS PROGRAM

There will be unified services at both morning and evening worship at the Church of the Nazarene. In the morning the Sunday school will present an Easter program with sermon by Rev. A. H. Perry. Tomorrow at 6:45 p. m. the young people of the church will participate.

A combined service also will be held at the Foursquare Gospel church, 168 South Adams street, where Sunday school pupils will present special Easter numbers. Mrs. Paul Hunter will direct the junior choirs. Services also will be held at 7:45 p. m.

Reception of new members at the morning service and baptism of infants, children and adults at 4 p. m. will mark the day for members of the First Evangelical UB church. At 7:30 p. m. the Youth Fellowship will present a play, "The Triumph of the Cross" with Mrs. Edward Jackson as director. Richard Cates will preside at the services. Rev. V. C. Stamets, pastor, will preach at the morning service.

Rev. Harry M. Kesling will have charge of the morning worship at the Third Street Church of God, with Rev. Sheldon C. Johnson presiding. A three-act play, "The Easter Story" will climax the day's services. The play was written by Larry King, assistant superintendent of the Sunday school. It will be followed by a sermon by Rev. Kesling.

Holy Communion will be administered at the St. John's church by Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor, at 10:15 a. m.

Administration of the Holy Communion and the reception of new members will mark the morning services at the St. Luke's Lutheran church in charge of the pastor, Dr. Herbert S. Garnes. At this service, members of last Sunday's confirmation class will take their first communion and their families will commune with them.

PLAN COMMUNION

The young people of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will hold their traditional breakfast at 8:30 a. m. at the church with communion at 9 a. m. Dr. Charles F. Sheriff will preach and receive new members into the fellowship of the church. At 4 p. m. there will be a service for the baptism of children and the celebration of Holy Communion.

A class of boys and girls who have been in a training class under Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church, for the past six weeks, will be received into membership tomorrow morning. Following a sermon by the pastor, a group of adults also will be received as new members. There will be no evening service at the church tomorrow.

Dedication of church hymnals and reception of new members will feature tomorrow morning's worship at the First Church of God, South McElroy road. Rev. R. P. Smith, pastor, will preach. At the 7:30 p. m. service, an Easter playlet, "After the Crucifixion," will be presented.

Rev. Charles L. Shook, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will receive new members into the church and preside at baptism services at tomorrow morning's worship.

Choral Holy Communion will be observed at the Grace Episcopal church tomorrow at 11 a. m., with sermon by Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard.

Holy Communion will be administered by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Portz at the St. Mark's Lutheran church at 10:30 a. m.

Meets Wednesday

The quarterly meeting of Sunday school teachers and officers of the First Lutheran church will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the assembly room of the church. Prior to the meeting, the Sunday school board will meet at 7 p. m.

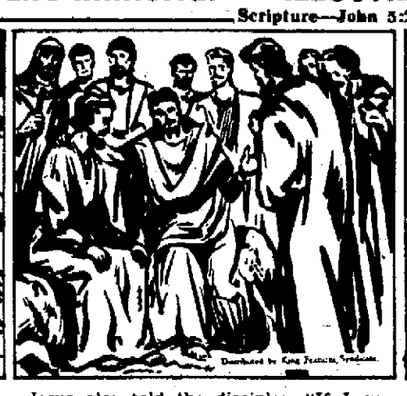
Easter--Jesus Tells of Life Immortal — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 5:25-29; 14:1-4; I Corinthians 15:1-8, 20-26; II Corinthians 4:16-5:10.

Jesus, knowing His earthly life was near its end, told His disciples: "In My Father's house are many mansions . . . I go to prepare a place for you."



Jesus also told the disciples, "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto Myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

Paul, in his first epistle to the Corinthians, wrote of how the disciples saw Jesus after His resurrection, and that many others saw Him, as many as 500.

Paul wrote the Corinthians that, although he was born too late to see the Lord, He came to him and saved him.

MEMORY VERSE—John 14:1.

Pastor Goes To Meeting

Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, will be a delegate to a special meeting of the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Hotel Cleveland, Cleveland, Wednesday and Thursday.

Delegates to the meeting will vote on the Basis of Union with the interpretations adopted by the General Council of the Congregational Christain churches at Oberlin last June.

They also will consider a resolution adopted by the same council, meeting in special session at Cleveland in February. The resolution pertains to types of realtionship of congregations with the United Church of Christ.

Former Erie Employe Dies

Friends here have received word of the death of Charles John Fogelgren, former Mansfield resident, at his home in Tampa, Fla., on April 9. Burial was in Orange Hill cemetery mausoleum, Tampa.

While a resident of Mansfield, Mr. Fogelgren was track supervisor for the Erie railroad. He moved to Florida following his continuous service with the railroad.

Mr. Fogelgren was active in the Tourist and Shuffleboard clubs in Tampa and was a member of the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Cone of Columbus and Mrs. Luceil Artress of Washington, D. C.; two grandchildren.

First Congregationalists to Realize 7-Year Dream

Ground-Breaking Ceremonies Slated

Tomorrow will be a day of material as well as spiritual triumph for members of the First Congregational church.

When the first spadeful of earth is turned by Rufus Tracy, the church's oldest member, the congregation will be a step nearer realization of a dream of again owning a sanctuary for worship. It was seven years ago that fire destroyed the First Congregational church on Park avenue west.

At 3:30 p. m. tomorrow ground - breaking ceremonies will take place at the new site at Millsboro road and Marion avenue. A processional of junior and senior choirs, those participating in the service, representatives of each organization of the church, and Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor, march at that hour from the Marion avenue side of the church property to the spot where the earth will be turned.

As they march, carrying both the American and church flags, they will sing, "The Church's One Foundation is Jesus Christ our Lord."

Brief devotions will be given by Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church. Then communications from former pastors will be read and brief talks will be given by H. E. Edwards, moderator of the church, H. B. Soulen, chairman of the building committee, and Rev. Madden.

USES SPECIAL SPADE

The specially prepared spade will be formally presented to Tracy, who will then break ground. The spade will be returned to the pastor, who will present it to Edwards for posterity. Later it will be hung in the new church.

The ceremonies will close with the audience singing, "Faith of Our Fathers." The benediction will be given by Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of the St. John's church, whose congregation was one of hundreds merging with the Christian Congregational churches of the country.

Tomorrow's ceremonies will be the culmination of months of planning by the building committee and a campaign for funds which was headed by Atty. Herbert H. Schettler last fall.

As quickly as possible excavation will be started on the new church, which at the present will include the sanctuary and religious education building, two units of a four-unit over-all plan which the church hopes to complete later.

Churchill's New Book At Library

Second Volume Tells Britain's War Story

THEIR FINEST HOUR, the second volume of Winston Churchill's war memoirs, is one of 18 new books which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday.

This volume covers the course of World War II from mid-May, 1940, Through early January, 1941, Britain's most crucial period.

Like the first volume which was published last year, this book bears the stamp of its author's personality. Part of the material is taken from Churchill's messages, speeches, and directives.

BEAU JAMES, by Gene Fowler, is the story of the life and times of Jimmy Walker, spectacular mayor of New York City. The book pictures him as a thwarted actor who had in common with many theatrical people, magnetic charm, and showmanship. Tin-Pan Alley drew him in his youth, but he turned to politics at his father's urging. His greatest political asset was apparently his ability to inspire affection.

PARTNERS ALL — PLACES ALL, by Miriam Kirkall and Irma Schaffnit, is a new book on square dancing. The explanations are so simple as to suit children's groups or adult beginners. A phonograph record is suggested for each dance.

THE SUGAR ISLANDS, by Alex Waugh, is a travel book about the West Indies. The author points out the necessary and desirable things for readers to do and see, recollections of earlier trips of his own, and bits of history. The travel information is specific and up-to-date.

THE PROBLEM DRINKER, by Joseph Hirsch, is a scientific, not a moral, approach to the subject. The author reviews facts and fiction concerning the effects of alcohol, the results of recent research, and good and bad methods of handling alcoholics in various communities in the U. S. He concludes that much research is still to be done before an adequate solution can be recommended.

Other non-fiction: HANDBOOK OF AMERICAN TOYS, Hertz; NORTH AFRICAN PRELUDE, Welch; PHOTOGRAPHIC FACTS AND FORMULAS, Wall; ELEMENTARY RADIO SERVICING, Wellman; FACE OF SWEDEN, Sundstrum; SMALL ARMS OF THE WORLD, Smith; INDUSTRIAL ELECTRONICS REFERENCE BOOK.

GREYHOUND IN THE LEASH, by Joyce Horner, is an unusual book built around the idea of what might have happened, if—! The story of Evalina is told four different times, each time showing how different her life might have been if she had married a different man, or had remained single. In each story, she is the same woman, but her development is different.

THE NANCY FLYER, by Ernest Poole, is a story of stagecoach days. Bob Gale, owner of the Nancy Flyer, was the fastest driver in the New Hampshire hills, and Nancy Hubbard was the proprietor of the Bull Moose Tavern. This is their story and the story of how the railroads finally destroyed the stagecoach. Bob served in the Civil War and later journeyed west to be part of the last stronghold of the stagecoach.

YOUNG MRS. SAVAGE is a pleasant love story about nice people by Dorothy Stevenson. Dinah Savage is the pretty widowed mother of four young children. When she goes for a holiday to a seaside town in Scotland, she meets again the hero of some of her girlish dreams. In spite of the machinations of the young man's step-mother, everything turns out for the best.

Other fiction: BILL STERN'S FAVORITE BASEBALL STORIES, Stern; DEATH OF JEZEBEL, Brand; SKELETON IN THE CLOCK, Dickson.

Labor Lawyer To Fight FEPC Bill

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Donald R. Richberg, former new deal "brain truster," will appear before the Ohio Senate Commerce and Labor committee Tuesday to oppose the FEPC bill.

Richberg, now a Washington labor lawyer, is said to consider the House-approved Fair Employment Practices bill a futile attempt to eliminate discrimination by legislation.

Centenarian Dies

AKRON — (AP) — One of Akron's few centenarinas died yesterday. He was Jared Pettibone, who was born in nearby Western Star 100 years ago.

Indians Celebrate Easter

GUADALUPE, Ariz. — (UP) — Arizona's Yaqui Indians danced a weird ritual representing worship of "Chris"s tomb" today as their centuries-old half-pagan observance of lent neared its Easter climax.

Music from goat-skin drums, pebble-filled gourds and crude flutes was slow and sorrowful, in contrast to last night's wild pagan dance following the re-enactment of the crucifixion.

Tomorrow at sunrise, the Yaquis will chant a paean of glorification and victory as they march to the village Catholic church, restore the statue of Christ above the altar and hear mass.

Hundreds of visitors flocked here to watch the celebration of Christ's passion, which the Indians picked up from 16th-century Spanish missionaries. Some of the tribesmen set up cold drink and hot dog stands to serve the crowds.

The ancient ritual began Wednesday when a group of Yaquis representing "Los Fariseos" (the Pharisees) started a daily search for Christ, represented by the statue. Thanks to the betrayal of Judas, he was found last night in a cottonwood bower which passed for the Garden of Gethsemane.

The "Los Pilatos," or soldiers of Pontius Pilate, masked and armed with spears, seized Christ and put him through the trial and crucifixion, all accompanied by the throb of native music. Meanwhile the true believers speared the dummy representing Judas.

THE RESURRECTION, an engraving by Albrecht Durer, 1512. "And behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and His raiment white as snow: and for fear of Him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men."

Aid Work Of Seminary

Members of the B'nai Jacob congregation will participate financially in the newly-organized regional conference of Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky Friends of the Jewish Theological Seminary of New York City. Rabbi Moshe Goldblum announced today.

The first annual conference of this group was held last Sunday in Columbus with David S. Lapine and Nathan Lifson of the congregation as delegates.

The organization is being promoted to assist in expansion of the program of the Seminary, the theological college for conservative Judaism.

At the meeting last Sunday held in the Tifereth Israel Temple, Columbus, representatives from 15 communities were present to hear Rabbi Joel S. Geffen, director of the department of field activities and community service of the seminary, outline the proposed program.

Miss Esther Gershone, a student at the Teachers' Institute of the Seminary, told of her activities at the Seminary. She will become a teacher of the Jewish religion for the Jewish community of India.

Elected at the meeting to have charge of the project for this area were Herman Katz of Columbus, chairman, and Dr. Louis A. Lurie of Cincinnati, Judge Samuel Silbert of Cleveland and Max Waldman of Louisville, as co-chairmen.

According to Rabbi Goldblum, the object of the conference is to make individual synagogue members friends of the seminary.

Will Move Plant

NEW PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — A war surplus factory will be moved here from Detroit this month for use as a plant by the Miracle Adhesive corporation, President Lloyd Cutler said today.

Can't Make Tucker Cars

Trustees Rule Out Manufacture

CHICAGO — (UP) — Trustees of the Tucker corporation, firm organized by Preston Tucker and associates to make automobiles, reported to a federal judge today that it was impossible for them to try to manufacture cars "at this time."

In the first report made since their appointment by federal judge Michael L. Igoe on March 3, trustees John I. Schatz and Aaron Colnon said that the best course at present, pending determination of the company's financial soundness, seemed to be one of preserving and protecting its assets.

"It is impossible for your trustees to attempt at this time to manufacture automobiles," Schatz and Colnon said.

Construction and establishment of such facilities, they said, would require spending sums not available to the corporation or its trustees.

Hudson Reveals New Price Slash

DETROIT — (INS) — Hudson Motors Friday joined the "first round" of price levelling in the auto industry by cutting passenger car prices from $15 to $100.

The company is the sixth member of the industry to trim price tags this year.

The heaviest cut was on the six-cylinder convertible, dropped to $2,768. The three-passenger "super six" coupe, cheapest model manufactured by the company, was trimmed $15, to $1,915.

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1949

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—notice what happens to some of those who don't.

There seems to be a question as to whether communism should be studied in colleges—why not, other diseases are studied.

A meteor is described as "falling all over Rhode Island"—which is another advantage that Texas can claim, as no meteor is likely to fall "all over" the Lone Star state.

Speaker to Explain Manager Plan

WHILE some Mansfield people—men and women—have studied the city manager form of municipal government to at least a small extent, others are probably unfamiliar with this plan, and the extent to which it has grown in recent years.

As this subject is attaining lively interest in Mansfield it seems timely to present opportunity for greater enlightenment on the actual operation of this plan in cities where it has been adopted.

Such an opportunity is to be given Mansfielders next Tuesday evening in the auditorium of John Simpson junior high school, when a public meeting is to be held under sponsorship of the Citizens Committee for Council-Manager Plan.

The speaker at this meeting, which is to start at 7:30 p. m., is to be Walter J. Millard, of Cincinnati, a nationally known authority on the council-manager form of municipal government, who will explain various phases of its operation and answer questions.

It is also planned, at this meeting, to choose permanent officers for the citizens committee, looking toward presentation of the issue for decision by voters.

'American Way of Life' Portrayed

AN ACTIVITY of the Mansfield Kiwanis club this year merits commendation as a part of the education in Americanism which has seemed to be too greatly neglected in routine schooling.

Under the general title, "It's Fun to Live in America," Kiwanis International is issuing a series of 12 folders—one each month—touching on various phases of the American way of life in a brief but convincing way.

In Mansfield it has been arranged that 1,200 of each issue of these folders are to be distributed in Senior high school, with the suggestion that students not only read them but take them home for family discussion.

It is also being planned to have 2,300 of the folders distributed to inmates of the Onio state reformatory, so that these young men may have opportunity to become informed on some of the things that they may have missed in early training.

Copies of the folders already issued reveal educational and inspirational value that justifies recommendation for careful reading and thoughtful consideration.

When Women Become Aroused

THE WOMEN of Gary, Indiana, up in arms about the increase of crime in their city, are attempting to raise $50,000 to finance a crime commission which would operate under their direction.

They do not refuse the help of the men in the community, but insist on directing the fight themselves. A local minister heads the organizing committee, and some Gary manufacturers have made large contributions to the fund, stipulating that the women retain control.

The commission project highlights a five-week anti-crime campaign put on by the women citizens.

Women bring to such a campaign a fresh viewpoint and direct approach which are likely to prove effective. Women have, as a matter of fact, initiated and guided some of the historic battles against political and civil corruption. When staying power and refusal to yield to corrupt forces are added to feminine indignation, improved conditions usually result.

Aviators Break Endurance Record

NOW THAT two aviators, Bill Barris and Dick Riedel, have broken the previous endurance record by staying in the air more than 726 hours, some may wonder what practical value attaches to such a feat.

It is noted that considerable co-operative effort was required in renewing the plane's fuel supply three times a day from a speeding jeep, and while such a stunt is bound to attract much public interest it appears unlikely to add anything to the progress of aviation.

It is more remindful, in fact, of pole-sitting "endurance tests" which were quite common a few years ago as an outlet for exhibitionist tendencies.

As Economic Advisers View It

THE AMERICAN level of living should go up by about a quarter in the next nine years, in the view of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. This does not mean that living costs are going up by 25 per cent, and nothing else. Incomes will increase too, making more saving possible, and more leisure time, predicts the Council.

They expect this because the number of persons able and willing to work is increasing each year. Technological improvements add annually to the amount of goods produced. If full employment can be maintained (the Council does not think that the present drop is alarming), it should be possible to attain the necessary goal of a three per cent increase in production each year.

This time it is the Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., that is having matrimonial trouble—it's so difficult to keep in mind which one of them it is that is being thus mentioned from time to time.

Having reached the age of 21, a gorilla in the Chicago zoo has been given a voter's identification card—presumably being able to make an "X" mark.

Frankly Speaking

Camel Under the Tent

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Just keep everything free of control, the old economists used to say, and everything will work out dandy.

They wanted no government interference with people or business or commerce. "Anarchy, plus a constable," Carlyle called it.

But out of this philosophy grew "the American free interprise system." Actually, it's hardly ever been completely free.

Almost from the start of the republic, government tariffs with American-made goods here. Bit by bit through the years the government kept sticking its nose under the tent a little more.

Some landmarks were the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Sherman Anti-Trust Act to control monoplies, and in 1913 the income tax started.

Government controls, help, regulation and interference piled up during the disaster of the depression in the 1930's. All were signs of the increasing complexity of American life.

And now the latest evidence of how far we've moved from a truly free interprise system is the new farm program which Agriculture Secretary Brannan has laid in Congress' lap.

Congress probably won't pass it into law this session. But already there is plenty of argument about it on Capitol Hill. There'll be more.

Briefly, if it became law, this would be its purpose:

1. To make sure farmers had a fair income, the government would pay them when their prices went down, or else buy up their crops.

2. At the same time this, in part, would mean lower prices for the public—although the money paid the farmers would be out of the public's taxes.

And all of this, since the government would be helping the farmers with public money, would mean a strong government hand in what farmers grew or could grow.

* * *

Difference of Opinion.

SOME CRITICS of the idea consider all this a very bold step, too far-reaching. Others look on it as just a logical step that's needed to keep farmers from a crack-up.

The underlying idea—helping the farmers—isn't new. Under the law we have right now, the government steps in on a number of crops and buys them up to help farmers when prices fall below a certain level.

For example, the government buys eggs if they go below a price fixed by the government. Potatoes, too.

Why? Just to keep a surplus off the market. With the surplus gone, prices stay up. This means that, for the benefit of the farmers, the public pays higher prices. And yet, it's the public's tax money which is being used to do all that.

If the program became law the government would more or less, do the same thing in some kinds of food, like non-perishable corn, wheat and so on.

But it would do something new and different on perishable foods like meat, milk, eggs, poultry, fruits.

In their case—if their prices dropped below a figure fixed by the government—the government wouldn't step in and take them off the market to keep prices up. It would do this:

Take the case of eggs. The government might decide the average price on them should be 45 cents a dozen, so the farmers could have fair income off them.

Suppose they dropped to 25 cents a dozen because so many were on the market. The government would say "Good, let 'em drop, so the general public can get the benefit of lower prices."

But the government would pay the farmers 20 cents, of the difference betweeen the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

You, buying the eggs at 25 cents a dozen, would benefit by the lower price on eggs. But it would be your tax money the government would use to pay the farmer that 20 cents.

Who'd win on that deal? No one knows now. Secretary Brannan's experts are busy now trying to figure out how much the program would cost.

One thing is clear from the present and proposed help for the farmers: to survive in the free enterprise system they need government help, and when that happens the system isn't free of control.

Washington Calling

Hurdles Ahead for Pact

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — At the time of the signing of the Atlantic Pact one of the ambassadors took his foreign minister to call on a prominent member of the Senate.

In the course of their private talk the senator, who is one of the most earnest advocates of international co-operation, was oppressed by some disquieting doubts about the future of the pact.

It was a curious conversation. Each man talked from a different set of beliefs.

The foreign minister was full of confidence. He seemed to feel that everything had been settled, including the certainty of a generous allotment of lend-lease arms for his country and other nations of the pact where the need is great.

The senator was not nearly so sure. He tried to put in a little caution so that the distinguished visitor would return to his homeland with at least the understanding that it would take time to ratify and implement the agreement.

This note of caution made the ambassador most unhappy. Obviously, he did not want his minister to return with any doubts. So in the end the three talked more or less at cross purposes.

Now that the pact is before the Senate, there is an object lesson in this conversation for the days ahead. Many senators are fearful that the promises made to the European nations signing the pact have been too glib and too generous. They see trouble ahead in this connection.

The No. 1 consideration is time. Given the present temper of the Senate, quick action simply is not possible. Approval of the pact is likely to take many weeks.

* * *

Expect Long Debate.

HEARINGS before the foreign relations committee have not yet been scheduled. They probably will begin toward the last of this month or the first part of May. They are certain to be lengthy.

The question in many senatorial minds is whether ratification of the pact is also a commitment to provide arms. Secretary of State Dean Acheson will be called on to answer that one, and it will not be easy.

Directly related are doubts as to the internal stability and strength of certain of the signatory powers. The fear is that arms sent from this country may fall into the hands of political adventurers of the right or the left.

When it comes to debate on the Senate floor, no one would be rash enough to prophesy the number of weeks that will be devoted to speech-making. Both in the hearings and in the floor debate it appears certain that the pact and the arms to implement it will be linked together.

Some sincere opponents, such as Sen. Forrest C. Donnell of Missouri, will take hours, if not days to expound their uncertainty as to whether the pact violates fundamental provisions of the Constitution.

Old-fashioned isolationists of the type of Sen. William Langer of North Dakota will exploit the familiar theme of a decadent Europe leaning on the United States. Much of this oratory will be tailor-made for the Soviet propaganda radio beamed at western European peoples.

Secretary Acheson has made an effort to prepare the signatory powers for this performance. But whether, in view of his delicate role as negotiator and mainstay of strength and encouragement, he has been able to do this is questionable.

It is important for the Senate to understand the viewpoint of the Europeans who signed the pact. They came here realizing the grave risks they took for their respective countries in defying Soviet threats.

They could not, politically speaking, have taken those risks without the hope and even the assurance of tangible help toward greater security.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Waste Charged In Military Spending

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY, the Army's chief of staff, theorized to Congress recently that if there should be another war involving the United States there would be three phases of actual combat. These, he said, would be:

1. Defense of the homeland and a retaliatory air blow to cripple the enemy's industry and morale.

2. Continued strategic air bombardment from advance bases, with the Navy keeping the sea lanes open for supplies.

3. An all-out land assault where the final decision would be made.

"It would be tragic for our nation," said Gen. Bradley, "if when they rang the bell for the third round, the Army had to answer, 'Wait for two years and we'll come out swinging.'"

That's the kind of argument every able armed forces chief makes at appropriations hearings. It packs terrific weight with congressional committees, eager to prune military budgets yet wary of slashing too deep.

The Other Side.

There is another and disputed part to the picture. Former President Herbert Hoover sketched one side of it for the Senate armed forces committee last week and it was rebutted next day by Army Secretary Kenneth Royall.

Mr. Hoover said the annual military burden on taxpayers has grown so great that, coupled with other government spending, it seriously imperils national economy.

The former president said there was "staggering waste" in military spending and declared it was "almost impossible" for congressional committees to find out what is being down with the defense dollar.

He spoke from a report prepared by a "task force" of the Hoover Commission Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Federal Government. The task force chairman, Ferdinand Eberstadt, New York banker, placed the money needlessly spent each year for defense at roughly one and one-half billion dollars.

Army Secretary Kenneth Royall testified next day that the Hoover report was "totally incorrect."

He charged that the military establishment could have saved up to one billion dollars last year but for unworkable provisions in the present unification law. There was no doubt, he said, that the nation was less able to deal with an emergency now than before the law was passed.

Mr. Hoover accused the armed forces of "padding" accounts and cited examples of gross inefficiency and waste.

At Home

Pact Up to Senate.

Administration leaders are confident that the Senate eventually will ratify the North Atlantic treaty but long debate is expected once it reaches the Senate floor. The first step will be public hearings, conducted by the foreign relations committee. These hearings will give opportunity to supporters and critics of the pact — outside of Congress—to express their views.

In forwarding the pact to the Senate, Mr. Truman asked its approval as "only one step—although a long one—on the road to peace." He stressed the theme that neither this country nor any other nation can achieve peace independently."

Focus of the debate will be on the cost of military aid to European members. There is widespread agreement that the arms project is essential if the pact itself is to have any lasting effect.

* * *

Airlines In the Red.

Why have the airlines been losing money at a time when almost everyone else has been posperous?

The question was posed by Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee studying finances and operations of 16 of the nation's largest commercial air carriers.

The government handed over 55 million dollars in subsidies to these lines last year to get them out of the red—about double the government stipends they received in 1947.

Joseph J. O'Connell, jr., chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, admitted that substantial government aid will be needed to help some airlines become economically sound.

* * *

Stopping the Leaks.

The government is trying to checkmate the stealthy shipment of strategic materials to countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Last week in Houston, Tex., customs agents seized a $150,000 shipment of carbon black that had made a mysterious round-about trip from Texas to Mexico and back—ostensibly en route to Rotterdam, Holland.

Carbon black gives long-lasting qualities to rubber used for tires or industrial purposes and is one of the items on the government list of goods denied Soviet Russia.

Further investigations are under way in other parts of the country, dealing with other materials.

Abroad

Dentistry In Britain.

British dentists are pulling teeth and filling cavities by the stop-watch.

It's a test to determine how much time they spend treating each patient and why dentists, under the new socialized health program, are earning such high salaries.

The ministry of health ordered the experiment. Five hundred dentists working under the health program are doing the timing. Another 50 dentists in private practice are filling out the same records as a check. They were chosen at random.

Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan's calculations on the costs of "free" dentistry were thrown completely out of whack by the fat paychecks collected by dentists. Bevan immediately cut in half all gross payments over 4,800 pounds ($19,200) a year "because of the urgency of the situation."

* * *

Not Easy to Discuss.

A Swiss government spokesman predicts it will be unlikely that the Soviet Union and its satellites will take part in drafting a new convention for the protection of civilians in any future war.

The Swiss government, which called an international conference in Geneva for April 21 to revise the Geneva War Conventions, said it has received rejections from Yugoslavia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Forty-eight nations have accepted, including all the western powers and the Scandinavian countries.

* * *

Tito, Bold and Defiant.

For some time the United States has been quietly easing restrictions on trade with Yugoslavia. No change in policy has been publicly announced but some scarce American equipment and machinery which is denied other eastern European countries has been shipped to Yugoslavia with government approval.

More will follow later if Marshal Tito maintains his independence from Moscow. Included in the shipments have been scarce oil drilling equipment for which Tito is in dire need.

Last weekend in a major policy speech, the Yugoslav premier charted his course. It would be a crime against his socialist state, he declared, not to trade with the west—on a business basis.

Farmer's Diary

Alone In April Woods

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I WALKED through the April woods after an early morning shower. When the sky had wept for a half hour or so, the sun peeped out of a long rift in the cloud and reflected upon the fresh greenery of the woodland floor.

I walked through the gate left open when the neighbor hauled out a load of wood for fuel. The tall trees arched over the curved trail made by team and wheels. The rill was flowing clear, and by its moist flank clumps of purple violets grew . . . a strange, enchanting company.

To honor their sprightly heads, rising out of the crown of the plant upon pale green stems, I lay down beside a score just to catch, once more, the sacred odors of such delicate springtime blooms. I reflected that earth that grows so much of beauty and rare perfume must be more than merely soil . . . or does every spot of ground have its glorious moments?

The pink, welcoming spring beauties stood all about, refreshed by the early shower. Alone I sat, enjoying rare loveliness, and wondering at the startling miracle of life and growth.

Robins flew above me, from branch to branch, cheered by the sunlight and the feast of worms. A wood thrush softly sang, a glimmering hillside reflected its thousand pearly drops of dew. A painted cardinal began whistling in a treetop.

I walked on a little way into the grove, lifting up my eyes and heart, as in a temple . . . aching to find my own rightful place among so much of music and of order.

Silently I stopped and chose a rustic pew made by a log against a grassy bench, and there I listened reverently to praise more sweet and serene than that of any human voice.

Possession of that woods is not wealth . . . it is rather the enjoyment anyone finds in it that gives it value. "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof" . . . "all Thy works praise Thee."

To the heart that burns beholding the Creator's handiwork, the experience of the two disciples who met and walked, unknowing, with the risen Master along the Emmaus road, seems not like an allegory so much as like an echoing voice of eternal spring.

And whoever will may hear it at Eastertime, if he but cares to go into the woods alone.

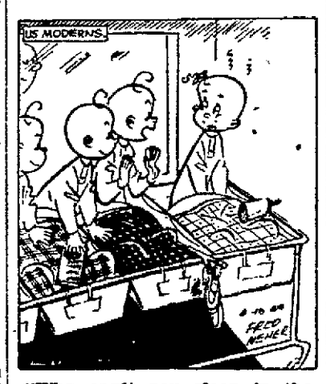
The eclipse was televised. It was really a strip act in which the earth and the sun triumphed but I thought the moon did as well as could be expected for a novice on video.

* * *

And an important thing to bear in mind is that the earth, sun and moon all got their act on the big time without first going on an amateur-night or talent-scout program.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"Why can't you sleep in the morning like other women?!"
